Chemical firm seeks location in Arlington Heights

Crop-Saver Chemical Co., 3511 Potomac ave., Chicago, has plans ready for erection of a factory in the light industry district of Arlington Heights. It will be located east of the new McLean Manufacturing Co. plant east of the sewage treatment plant. The building would be within the village, although some of the property will be outside the corporation.

Approval of the building permit is awaiting an analysis report of the water waste, which is used for air purification purpose. The village dads just want to be certain that the waste will not affect the operation of the sewage treatment plant.

Village officials who made an inspection of the present plant of the company have reported to the board that there is no odor or any operation objectionable feature that they could discover. The plant on Potomac avenue is adjacent to residences and candy and food factories, none of which have ever filed objections to the Chemical plant, which confines its operations to mixing and packaging ingredients, previously manufactured.

The powder ingredients arrive in carload lots and leave in 100 lb. bags. In explanation to the village board as to its operations, the Chemical Co. outlined their process as follows:

"We manufacture agricultural chemicals in finished form, ready to use by farmers and home gardeners. By agricultural chemicals we refer to such products as DDT, Rotenone, Parenthrum, fungicides such as finished copper sprays and dusts, but do not include such items as fertilizer which have a noxious odor."

The company expects to spend between $50,000 and $75,000 in the erection of the plant which will give employment to 20 to 25 persons. Half of these will be positions which can be filled by inexperienced persons.

The company processes four carloads of materials a week. The officials of the company hope to find homes in Arlington. One of them, James F. Rogers resides at 746 South Highland. "We want to live close to our business and become an integral part of the community," President Wm. Reeda, Jr., states in his letter to the village board.

The company desires its own railroad switch track and a survey has been made for that purpose. The company has entered into a contract to purchase the land, which is owned by the Kirchhoffs.

Signatures validate million dollars in Arlington Heights school bonds

The law requires that two members, the secretary and president of the board of education sign each bond. It also requires 985 signatures as each bond is for $1000.

These bonds are being issued by the board of education as a result of the referendum held May 21, 1949, for the purpose of constructing an addition to the present high school building which includes a gymnasium to seat 3600 people, four shower rooms, a cafeteria seating 600 persons, a visual education room, a health room, a first aid room, a nurse's room and office, an agriculture class and laboratory, four mathematics class rooms, a business education class room, three home economic class rooms, a large band room with four individual practice rooms, a large choral room with three practice rooms, offices for instructors, etc.

Ground breaking for the structure will start at 8 a. m. Friday.

Arlington gives Christmas gift to autoists

Mayor Albert W. Goedke announced this week that the Arlington Heights police department have been advised to suspend arrest for overtime parking violations during the Christmas shopping season.

In other words, autoists may park anywhere in the village, for as long as they like, up until Christmas Day. This is a provision for shoppers only, commuters must abide by regular parking laws.

Christmas program to entertain PTA members next Tuesday night

"Christmas Windows" band and chorus music will highlight next Tuesday night's Parent Teacher Association meeting in Arlington Heights. The affair will be held in the South public school auditorium, and will begin at 8 o'clock.

The fifth grade students of the South school are working hard this week to perfect their playlette, "Christmas Windows," which is under the direction of Miss Marjorie Lawrence. It will consist of various Christmas scenes, done in pantomime behind a huge window structure. Readers will narrate Christmas tales as the scenes are being shown.

A chorus of seventh and eighth grade voices from the North school will open the program with Christmas melodies, and the concert band, made up of pupils from both the North and South schools, will render Yule selections. Both of these groups are under the direction of Harold Brunt.

Refreshments will be served during the social hour by mothers of the sixth grade students. All parents are invited to attend.

Christmas trees, playlettes, songs rush in holidays at local schools

The holiday season for the youth of Arlington Heights will begin next week, with many Christmas programs being given before the closing of school for the annual Christmas and New Year's vacation.

Though the schools are closing on different days, classes will be over in time for the youngsters to help with last minute Christmas preparations at home.

St. Peter Lutheran

Christmas trees are being put up in each classroom at St. Peter Lutheran school this week. The kindergarten, first and second graders are making most of the ornaments that will decorate their tree, while the older children are contributing ornaments brought from home for trimming the trees in their rooms.

The holiday season puts a kind heart in young folk and they contributed generously to the TB Bangle Day collection held at the school Tuesday.

School closes at noon December 23. Two Christmas programs will be held at the church Christmas Eve. The first, at 6 o'clock, will be given by the children whose last names begin with A-L, and the M-Z group will present theirs at 7:30 o'clock.

Recitations, musical numbers, and the Children's Choir of 50 voices, will be included in the entertainment.

St. James Catholic

A turkey luncheon will be served to all children at St. James Catholic school at noon December 22. Father Stier and Father Rosemeyer will be guests.

During the meal a representative from each class will give a greeting in behalf of the class to the priests and teachers. Community singing will also be enjoyed. Following the luncheon several Christmas skits will be given.

School will close for the holidays at the end of the program.

Arlington high school

The music and drama departments of the high school will join together to give a Christmas assembly for the entire school December 21, with pupils being dismissed at 2 p. m. for the holidays.

The program will open with the reading of scripture, and songs will be sung by the Madrigal and A Cappella singers. Other Christmas music will be played by the brass "choir."

Also featured will be a Dramatics club skit, "Why the Chimes Rang," and a violin solo, "Ave Maria," by Nancy McCarty. More Christmas scripture will be read at the close of the program.

North and South Public

School will be out December 21 for both the North and South Public schools. The children at both schools are busy this week decorating their hall Christmas trees.

Two assemblies, one this Friday and one next Monday, will be given at the South school for all the students. The main feature will be a pantomime playlet, "Christmas Windows," given by the fifth grade, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Lawrence.

The North school will have three assemblies December 21, with one each for the morning and afternoon kindergarten through fourth grade classes, and one for all the fifth through eighth grade students. The younger children will sing songs and hear a Christmas story, while the older children will be entertained with a short Christmas play, choral reading, and group singing.

Friday night the seventh grades of both schools will hold a party in the South school gym, from 7 to 9:30 o'clock, and the eighth grades will hold a party at the North school, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

All schools in Arlington Heights will resume classes January 3, at the regular hours. However, since this will be the first Tuesday of the month, the date of the teacher's planning conference, the fifth through eighth grades at the public schools will not begin classes until noon.

Free theatre party to add to kid's holiday

The children of Arlington Heights are fortunate, indeed. Besides all the wonderful programs being planned for them at school the local Lions club and the Arlington Theatre are holding their annual free theatre party next Thursday (December 22) at 9:30 a. m. Doors will open at 9 a. m.

Singing of Christmas songs from the time the doors open until the show starts, will add a real holiday air to the event. A big screen show, made up entirely of comedies and cartoons, is planned, plus a special stage attraction. Ray and Loretta Hackman will be on hand to present a half hour of magic and illusion.

At the end of the program Santa Claus will give each child a "bag of gifts." Everything is free and all children should plan to attend.

Heights teacher wins prize in travel contest

Word was received by R. E. Clabaugh, Supt. of the Arlington Heights Public grade schools, this week that one of his teachers, Mrs. Kay R. Campbell, North school, was one of the prize winners in the 1949 travel contest sponsored by The Instructor magazine.

The magazine expects to publish excerpts from her manuscript, "You, Too, Can Go to France!" in one of their spring issues.

According to the travel editor of The Instructor, there has never been a year when selection of winners was more difficult.

"Not only has the average quality of manuscripts been higher than usual," he said, "but there have been many more that seemed to the judges deserving of recognition. The winners are certainly to be congratulated."

Mrs. Campbell spent last summer touring France. She went over by boat, and except for three days in England, spent all her time traveling by bus and train, viewing all the points of interest in France.

"I went mostly for fun, though I did plan to do some painting," Mrs. Campbell told Paddock Publications. "I got so interested in sight-seeing, however, that I didn't paint a dab. I'll do that next time."

Strive to make Arlington Heights a safe place for children, bikes

Nearly every boy and girl in the Arlington Heights grade schools own and ride bicylces, either to and from school, or during play hours.

Through the combined efforts of the local police department, Chamber of Commerce, the Parent Teachers Association and the public and parochial schools, an attempt is being made to educate school children, and their parents, on "Bicycle Safety."

This reporter attended one of the various assemblies being given at all the schools this week. Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog and Officer Oscar Johnson were on hand to give brief talks on the subject. Patrol boys assisted with the running of a ten minute film entitled, "Bicycling with Safety," the showing of which was made possible through Mrs. E. J. Emery, president of the PTA.

AT THE END of the film one could see that the children were really impressed, especially when Chief Skoog asked them "How many of you would like a broken leg for Christmas, or spend Christmas in the hospital?" A general chorus of NO's arose and the Chief stressed that they wouldn't have to if they obeyed the bicycle laws, which would avoid accidents such as they had seen on the screen.

At these assemblies booklets entitled, "Official Bicycle Safety Manual," were left with the schools for distribution among the pupils. The purpose of this manual is to get it into the homes of school children in order to solicit the cooperation and interest of the parents in making the streets and village of Arlington Heights a safer place for children.

THE MANUAL contains many illustrations of careless cyclists and the tragedies which occurred because of this carelessness. It also has pointers to make games and sports that children indulge in safer.

Distribution of these official bicycle safety manuals was made possible by contributions of Arlington Heights business men, who are all members of the Chamber of Commerce. Their names appear in an ad on the back page of the book.

These bicycle safety assemblies are a forerunner for the bicycle licensing program, which will take place next spring in Arlington Heights.

Lutheran Home for Aged to hold open house Dec. 26

The Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, extends an invitation to the friends of the Home to attend its annual open house festivities, to be held December 26. A divine service will be held in the Home's chapel beginning at 3 p. m. A luncheon will be served in the dining room after the service.

Many groups are presenting programs at the Home for the residents during the holidays.

December 16, the Arlington Heights Talent Team, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Bosch, will give a program at the Home at 7:30 p. m. and will give gifts to the residents.

The Girl Scout Troop of Hope church, Chicago, will give a program at the Home December 18.

At the annual Christmas party given the residents of the Home December 9 by members of the Woman's Auxiliary, each resident and staff member received a gift and Santa Claus made a visit to the residents.

Girl Scouts from Messiah church, Chicago, (Rev. F. C. Giese) visited the Home and gave a Christmas program for the residents, December 10.

Mrs. Pauline Esdale, whistling poetess, presented a program at the Home December 10. The residents enjoyed her program of bird lore and Christmas pageantry, which was presented with colored slides, poetry, songs and whistling. She led the residents and guests in community singing of Christmas carols.

McLean factory building is nearing completion

The factory building being erected by the McLean Manufacturing Co. on the site of the former Thermltite plant is nearing completion. Some machinery has been moved in.

Wm. Cherney, the owner, was reluctant about announcing the date that operations will start, but did say that when the plant is running full blast, he expects to furnish employment for fifty men.

Xmas concert this Sunday at Arlington high

The Christmas season will be highlighted with the annual Christmas Concert given by music students at the Arlington Heights Township high school this Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. (Note change of time). All music lovers are invited to attend.

Band numbers are under the direction of Frederick Schmoyer, and choir numbers are being directed by James E. Cockrum.

Outstanding features of the program will be three numbers by the Madrigal Singers, who will be attired in traditional garb, adding much color to the concert; Nancy McCarty, violin soloist, who will play "Ave Maria," accompanied by Dolores Goldthwaite; and a reading, "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," narrated by Bonnie Petersen.

Senior Ball set for day after Christmas

Fourth year students at Arlington Heights high school will be hosts December 26 at the annual Senior Ball, which will be held in the high school gym.

Chuck Novak and his orchestra will pour forth the dreamy music for dancing between 9 p. m. and 12 midnight. Decorations, according to the committee in charge, will make the gym look "out of this world," but that's all the information they would give.

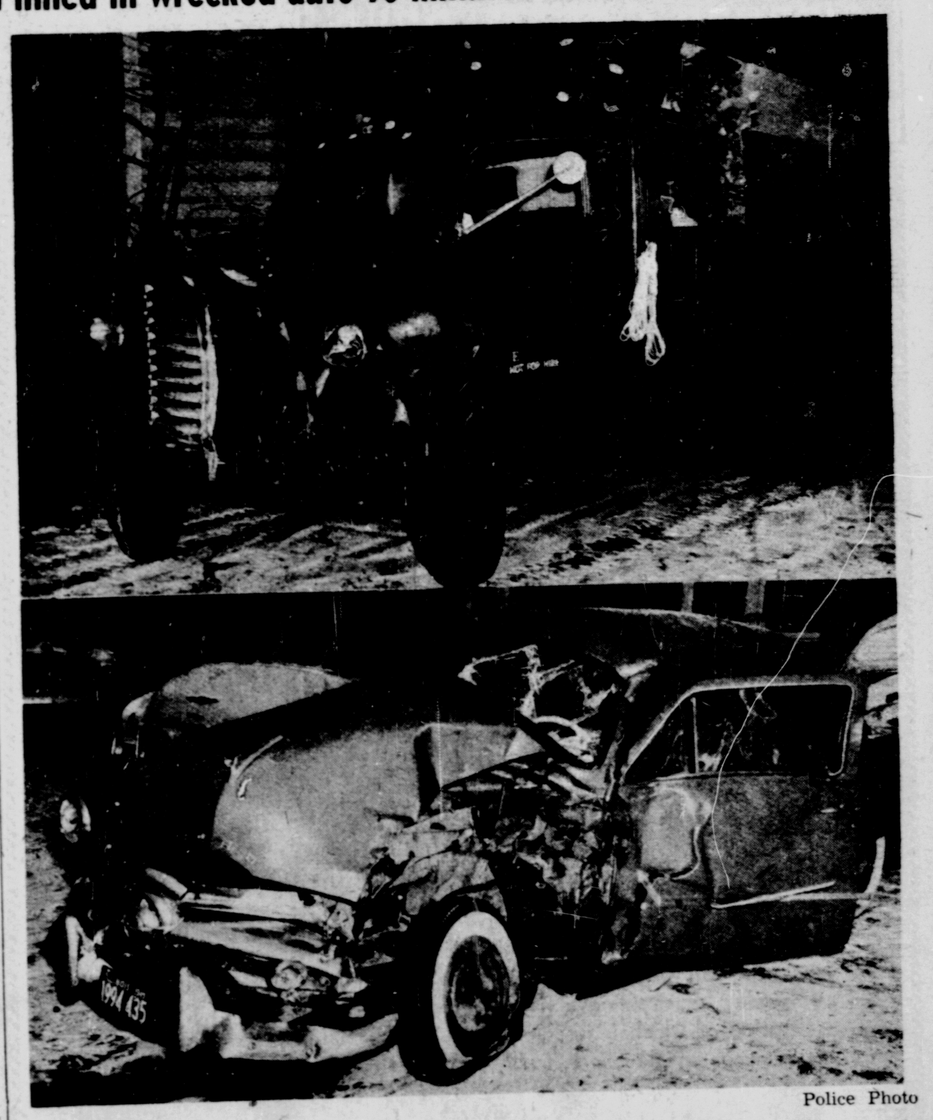

Bids will be on sale next week and may be purchased from any senior at $1.50 a couple. It is hoped all the "belles and beaux" of Arlington high will attend and a special invitation is extended to the alumni.

POST OFFICE OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY TO HANDLE CHRISTMAS PACKAGES

The Arlington Heights post office will be open all day this Saturday, until 6 p. m.

No money-orders, postal savings or postal notes will be sold after 12 noon, however, as the office is remaining open solely for the mailing of parcels and letters and the purchase of stamps.

Pinned in wrecked auto 90 minutes before rescue

Police Photo

Richard Grecco, 18, Fox River Grove, driver of the above passenger car, was held prisoner in the wreck 90 minutes while Dr. C. A. Stark stood by, administering shots until employees of Arlington Fender and Body Shop returned to Arlington to secure acetylene torch to cut open a door and free his limb.

The accident occurred early Saturday morning on the Northwest highway, near Rt. 53, Palatine. Grecco's car skidded on the curve, causing a head-on collision with a truck loaded with Christmas trees, being driven by Harold Sargent of Wood Dale.

Sargent saw the skidding auto, but was unable to avoid hitting it. He and a companion who was with him, ducked just before the collision, thus saving themselves from serious injury.

Grecco sustained a fractured left thigh, bruised foot and multiple lacerations about his cheek and left eye. Dr. Starck answered the emergency call and remained on the scene until Grecco could be removed to the Palatine hospital. He was later taken to the Presbyterian hospital, Chicago.

Two children's Xmas services to be given by Lutheran Sunday school

"We Tell the Glad Story," the Christmas story in poetry and song, will be given by the primary department under the direction of Mrs. V. G. Mendt at 4 p. m. The children will sing Christmas carols projected on a screen with the Nativity background.

At 8 p. m. the senior department, under the direction of Stanley Petersen and Mrs. Karl Bauman, will present a pageant "There Was One Who Gave a Lamb," in costume with a choral background.

Anklin' Around with Ainslie

Had more fun this past week just wandering around town, slushing through the snow and feeling the rush and hustle that means Christmas is really coming. Just a bit over a week now until the great day, and guess I get as excited as the kids—what with mysterious packages arriving and getting the ornament box out and dusted off.

Well anyway I went out to the very new shop called "Elizabeth's" which is at 314 S. State rd., and discovered that the owner really has a splendid idea for her new place. She's very anxious to gather together handicraft from the neighborhood to sell in her attractive new store.

GO THERE and you'll find work that is all hand made. She has lovely crochet work, knitted goods and even scatter rugs. Jewelry, both the ceramic and shell types, and all sorts of children's stuffed toys. Elizabeth carries a full line of lingerie too which is the only thing in the shop that isn't made by hand. So if you'l like to give hand made gifts but can't thread a needle yourself this is the place to find some really lovely things. Was just thinking what a swell idea this new store is—Here is the chance for the busy housewife tied down with youngsters at home to earn some extra money if she happens to be talented in making things by hand. If you're interested you might contact Elizabeth about your hobby as she hopes to have a wide variety of items some day soon.

Stopped at Sauerland Flower Shop, too, and find they have some really clever Christmas decorations made out of that plastic material that looks like snow. There are fat, jolly snowmen, window wreaths and large candy canes which would make unusual front door decorations. They have Santa's sleigh and reindeers which would be perfect for a mantel or table and they'll make up all sorts of centerpieces for the holidays. What makes these things doubly okay is that they can be used year after year.

THE PARKWAY Liquor Store has a large line of all sorts of glasses from the giant sized pilsner glasses to tiny cordial holders. Also have everything in the line of bar accessories so pop can tend bar in style. There's ice tongs, power corkscrews and an ice crusher that gnashes up the ice cubes into crushed ice in a moment.

Wish they'd have the Christmas carols amplified in the downtown section this year. Always sounded so nice last year while you met the 6:08.

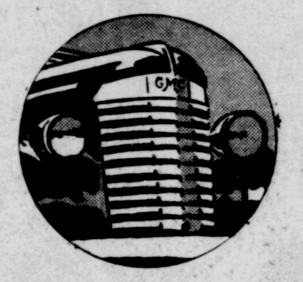

Deiber's Service station has Christmas trees again—all sorts, sizes and shapes—got a good one there last year so will try them again.

If you want wooden salad bowls, or any sort of gift in the wood line try Standard Wood Products in Dundee. You'll be able to purchase lazy-Sue-zans, lamps with unusual wood bases and trays of all sorts. Anything there would make an unusual gift for one of those difficult people on your list.

Shall really get on my speedy hiking boots and ankle around for a last minute look as gifts next week so hope you can unwind yourself from tree lights and wrappings to look for me.

Last week Wednesday the eighth grade groups from the North school, Arlington Heights, enjoyed a pre-holiday trip to Chicago. They visited two of Chicago's famous points of interest, namely the Adler Planetarium and the Museum of Science and Industry.

LEAVING THE North school by bus the groups were accompanied by Miss Mildred Kraner and Albert Wangles. They arrived at the planetarium in time to view the many collections of antique astronomical and mathematical instruments being exhibited.

The group of 41 pupils next entered the lecture room, housing the marvelous planetarium instrument, where they witnessed the planetarium feature program for December, "The Star of Bethlehem." The lecturer reproduced the sky as it appeared in Palestine the night Christ was born and also reproduced the sky as it will apppear December 25, 1949.

The afternoon was spent at the busy Museum of Science and Industry, where upon their arrival 21 buses were already parked, indicating the Museum's popularity. After first having lunch the group proceeded on a tour of the museum viewing the many interesting exhibits and displays.

THE MUSEUM was featuring its eighth annual Yuletide festival called, "Christmas Around the World," depicting America's rich heritage in Christmas customs and traditions. The group had an opportunity to see the theatre program highlighting Christmas customs of other lands, Christmas food of other lands, and hearing Christmas music.

Decorated Christmas trees from many of the foreign countries were another outstanding feature of the museum which created a great deal of interest.

Honored for 25 years

Martin Goerger of Arlington Heights was guest of honor at a dinner last week Wednesday, which was given on his twenty-fifth anniversary with the St. James Catholic church choir.

All choir members were present for the occasion and presented him with a silver rosary in memory of the occasion. Part of the evening's festivities included a movie "The Climax," starring Susanne Foster.

Father Stier offered a high mass Sunday as a token of appreciation for Mr. Goerger's 25 years with the choir.

Square dancing class to be added to night school

One of the new courses to be offered in the adult evening school division of the Arlington Heights Township high school will be a class in square dancing. This class will meet on Tuesday evenings in the high school cafeteria, beginning at 8 p. m., and will run through the spring months.

Instructors in the course will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meier, of Park Ridge, who have conducted square dancing classes in this area for many years, and who currently have classes in Chicago and suburbs several nights of the week. There have been many requests in the Arlington area for this type of instruction, and the class should be popular and fill a long wanted need.

Instruction is designed so that a student who has had no experience in square dancing will learn the calls and take an active part from the first lesson. Students who have had some previous experience will learn the new calls, develop squares of eight, and perfect their form and rhythm. Mr. Meier states that parties with refreshments are held on stated occasions, and public exhibitions are arranged for.

Enrollments for the spring semester are to be held January 16, 17 and 18 at the high school with classes starting the week of January 23.

Christmas tree ablaze—of lights—not fire, urges Heights Fire Chief

Fire Chief Elroy Winkelman and all members of the Arlington Heights fire department want this Christmas to be a merry one for all citizens of the village.

The Chief, therefore, is issuing a warning so that fire catastrophies will be prevented. All schools in the village are being mailed a letter along with several booklets entitled, "Keep Christmas Merry." The letter will ask the teachers to take a few minutes time to point out the fire dangers that must be prevented at Christmas time, all of which are listed in the booklet.

It tells how Christmas trees may be made safer, how to flameproof children's holiday costumes, how to choose safe decorations and safe toys, and what to do in case of fire. Suggestions are also given for preventing fire tragedies in places of public assembly.

Fire Chief Winkelman will be glad to mail a copy of the booklet free upon request.

Guild square dance well attended

Despite the inclement weather, nearly 100 members and guests of the Mt. Prospect St. John's Evening Guild danced to the calling of Mr. Chiles of Barrington at the square dance held last Saturday.

Mr. Chiles teaches an academic subject and square dancing at the Barrington high school and a group of his dancers gave several exhibitions. The girls who displayed their skill in the performance wore long colorful dresses and lacy pantaloons, and the boys were in western outfits and boots.

It was a night everyone enjoyed. Coffee and doughnuts were served later in the evening.

Participants in the gay affair thank Mrs. Allan Armstrong, social chairman, and her committee, Mrs. W. Colmar and Mrs. C. Parsons, for a wonderful evening.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sickel
625 S. Evergreen Avenue

New neighbors in the attractive gray frame house on S. Evergreen are Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sickel and their two little daughters Susan, three, and Molly, eight months old.

"When we moved to Arlington Heights from Oak Park three weeks ago we really felt like we were moving to the country," said young Mrs. Sickel. She continued, "Finding this house was the result of a long search and much driving around. We think this town is just about the right distance from everything."

"Muffie" and "Suzie" are willing little models for their Dad's hobby of photography. The two little girls are blonds, and Suzie has very long hair which Muffie delights in running her fingers through and pulling. Never a week goes by without new pictures of these two.

Mr. Sickel calls Excelsior Springs, Mo., his home town, and is a graduate of University of Missouri. He is a salesman for the International Paper Co. Mrs. Sickel is from Oak Park and attended Stephens College in Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Jahnke
419 N. Douglas Avenue

The Jahnke family moved to Arlington Heights in July from the north side of Chicago. Their Douglas avenue home is a modified cape cod house of brick. They have a son Lance, 11, who attends the North school.

Mrs. Jahnke calls Arlington Heights an unusually friendly town. She told of several of her neighbors inviting her to the Newcomers club and said, "Although I have been unable to attend any of the meetings yet, I'm looking forward to going soon. I think it's a wonderful way to get acquainted in a new town."

Mr. Jahnke is a tool room supervisor for the Hydraulic Pump Co. of Chicago. He's a real fishing enthusiast. Mrs. Jahnke helps out by making the flies. She enjoys this job of fly tying, however, she calls bowling her hobby.

The family pet is a buff colored cocker, Sandy, who is four years old.

Yomarco Christmas party this Friday

"Christmas at Grandma's" is the theme of the Yomarco Christmas party to be held this Friday, December 16 at 8:00 p. m. in the Fellowship room of South church. Games will be played and carols sung, and Santa promises to make a short visit. All couples interested in joining the group are cordially invited to the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carncross, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Applehans will serve as the Refreshment committee. In charge of entertainment are Mr. and Mrs. Craig Cain and Mr. and Mrs. Porter Gardner.

Each couple is asked to bring along a food item to be placed in a Christmas basket that will be given to a needy family. Those who have filled Oak Forest Gift Boxes are also asked to return them at this meeting. To aid Santa in his distribution of gifts at the party, each couple will bring two 25c grab bag gifts plainly marked "fella" and "gal".

Local students in NBC Christmas broadcast

The A Cappella Choir of Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, will present a nationwide concert of sacred choral masterpieces as part of a series of Christmas program to be aired over the National Broadcasting Company's nationwide network December 24, from 3:00 to 3:30 p. m., CST. The choir, under the direction of Victor Hildner, has been asked to sing in the nationwide series of broadcasts which will begin at 1:00 p. m.

Local choir members are:

Miss Irma Radloff, soprano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs E. Radloff, 407 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights. While attending Concordia high school, she sang in the choir and the cantata chorus. Miss Radloff is a sophomore and has been a member of the choir since entering the college department. Miss Radloff has also been active in numerous other musical activities while attending both Concordia high school and college.

Walter Fechner, baritone, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Fechner, rte. 1, Northbrook. While attending Concordia high school, he was a member of the high school choir and the Jr. Male Octet. Mr. Fechner is a sophomore and has been a member of the A Cappella choir since entering the college department.

Donald Hendricksen, tenor, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hendricksen, 203 Mason st., Bensenville. While attending the Bensenfille Community high, he was a member of the mixed choir. Mr. Hendricksen is a junior and has been a choir member for three years.

Observe 25th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blume of Rand rd., Mt. Prospect, observed their 25th wedding anniversary November 26. A reception was held at Fred's Place, and was attended by 200 guests.

An open house was held at the Blume residence November 27 and December 4.

Circling the Town

by PHYLLIS KNIGHT

"Christmas comes but once a year, but when it comes — oh dear, oh dear!" — what busy Arlington woman, or man, too, for that matter, hasn't echoed this thought as his or her pre-Christmas activities become more and more pressing!

Led off by the enterprising merchants who have seen to it that the business district is appropriately decorated and who are giving away free prizes each week, it seems that every club and organization has its own special and often traditional celebration. For those who are members of several groups, the days before the holidays can become quite hectic.

Of course, parents with college-age sons and daughters have an even bigger season ahead of them, for they have not only their own schedules to keep in mind but also the even-more-crowded round of parties, tea and dances of the younger generation.

The early birds

Many organizations have gotten off to an early start and have already held their special Christmas meetings. The Eli Skinner chapter of the DAR, for instance, held their annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. M. W. Grigsby. Members appeared in costumes appropriate to the "frontier day" theme. A gift exchange also took place.

Tuesday saw two more parties, given by the Woman's Society of Christian service of the Methodist church and the Junior Woman's club. The former began with a "share-a-dish" luncheon. The church parlors were decorated for the holiday season, and the program was also in keeping with the occasion with readings by Mrs. Eldon Kerner of St. Charles and music by the choral group from the high school.

Since so many members of the Junior Woman's club work during the day, their meetings are held in the evenings, and their Christmas party was no exception. The program planned was so good that the members decided to have it men's night as well. Scheduled was Christmas music by the newly-formed choral group of the club, under the direction of Mrs. Earl Heverly, as well as vocal solos, a reading and violin and ballet solos.

The Junior Woman's club also plans to give a party Sunday for 20 children of the Lutheran Child Welfare home in Addison with the money the members donated instead of bringing a gift to the customary grab bag.

Old Folks, too

The residents of the Lutheran Old Folks home had one party last Friday when the present and past members of the Women's auxiliary board and committees sponsored virtually an all-day affair. It began with a luncheon and included a program and a visit from Santa. This Friday evening the Talent Teens—who seem to add to their laurels each time they appear—will present a program for the residents of the home.

Of interest to more people than just individual club members are two events coming up soon. One is the Christmas party — free, too—for all the boys and girls of the village. It'll be held Thursday, Dec. 22, at 9:30 a. m., at the Arlington theatre under the joint sponsorship of the theatre and the Lions club. There'll be movies, gifts and, lest we forget, Santa Claus.

Christmas concert

This Sunday comes one of the high spots of the pre-Christmas program when the talented young people of the high school's music department present their annual holiday concert. With the band under the direction of Frederick Schmoyer and the Madrigal singers, Girls' chorus and A Cappella choir, led by James Cockrum, all presenting Christmas music, this should prove to be a lovely concert.

They will sing and play much of the music typical of the holiday season, such as "Gloria in Excelsis" and "Toyland." In addition, Nancy Leue will play a piano solo and Bonnie Peterson will narrate "'Twas the Night Before Christmas."

The concert, to which every one is welcome, will be held at 4 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Oh no, this isn't all — there are many more meetings and parties coming up next week. When, we wonder, will we ever get a chance to trim our tree!

People are talking about . . .

How the real need for a new post office is graphically pointed up during the rush to mail Christmas packages. One of our colleagues stood in line for 20 minutes at 9 o'clock one morning to mail a gift, and we hear that when things get really rushed, the line extends all the way to Krause's! The efficiency of the clerks hasn't anything to do with this, it's simply lack of adequate facilities.

People are not only talking about getting a new depot for the village, they're also keeping their fingers crossed in hopes!

by ARNOLD HATCH

Fifteen Blackhawk District members of N. W. Suburban Council met at First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, Wednesday, December 7, to plan Cub and Scout activities.

FAVORITES For FLAVOR

by GARNELL DOVE

For an old-fashioned Christmas gift, give homemade sweets. Folks who delight in creating something special will treasure these candy recipes.

Candy making is fun. Let the teen-agers make the Christmas candy this year. They'll have a wonderful time, and it's a good way to encourage budding culinary interests.

Here are three easy recipes which young and old cooks will enjoy making—and eating, too.

Brown Sugar Pecan Fudge

2½ cups brown sugar
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
Pinch of salt
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup coarsely chopped pecans

Mix sugar, corn syrup, salt, milk and butter in saucepan. Cook, stirring back and forth, until the sugar dissolves. Then cook, without stirring, until the candy thermometer reaches 238 degrees F (soft-ball stage). Remove from heat and cool at room temperature, without stirring, until the thermometer indicates 110 degrees. Add vanilla and beat until the mixture holds its shape and begins to lose its gloss. Stir in nut meats and spread in greased pan. Cool and cut in squares. Makes about 24 pieces.

Norwegian Sugared Nuts

1 pound shelled mixed nuts
2 teaspoons butter or margarine
¼ cup butter or margaraine
2 egg whites
1 cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Heat oven to 325 degrees F. (moderate). Arrange nuts and 2 teaspoons butter in shallow baking pan. Bake, stirring frequently, at 325 degrees for 25 minutes, or till golden-brown. Cool. Meanwhile, melt ¼ cup butter in shallow roasting pan, in 325 degree oven. Beat egg whites till they form moist peaks. Combine sugar salt, and cinnamon. Fold into egg whites. Stir in nuts. Spread nut mixture over melted butter. Bake at 325 for 40 minutes. Cool. Break in pieces. Keeps a week or more in covered tin.

Buttery Pecan Rounds

½ cup butter or margarine
2/3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg yolk
1 cup sifted enriched all-purpose flour
1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar
Pinch salt
½ cup chopped pecans
36 pecan halves

Heat oven to 325 degrees (moderate). Rub butter with spoon in bowl till creamy. Add sugar slowly, while rubbing; stir in yolk. Stir in flour, sifted with cream of tartar and salt; then chopped nuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls on ungreased baking sheets; top each with pecan half. Bake at 325 for 12 to 15 minutes, or until brown around edges. Makes 3 dozen.

Girl Scout News

The Girl Scouts of Arlington Heights wish to thank the people for their generosity in contributing toward their finance drive. They also wish to thank the men and women whose help was so willingly given to carry out the drive. As a result, $1725 was added to the Girl Scout treasury to help carry on this worthy project.

TROOP 20 held their third birthday party last Saturday afternoon in the Presbyterian church. The mothers of the girls were present as their guests. The girls had a large birthday cake and it was enjoyed by all.

Cotton Gin

Where Eli Whitney's first crude gin could separate but 50 pounds of cotton a day, today's gins turn out three thousand pounds per hour.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Elvira Duenn, sister of the bride, wore a lavender satin gown and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Elaine Klingenberg, Miss Ruth Clausing and Miss Joyce Jannusch, wore blue satin gowns and carried bouquets of rust-colored chrysanthemums.

Curtain Fabrics

Continuous exposure to sunlight weakens curtain fabrics. Such fabrics become weakened in the lower areas faster than at the top where they are protected by shades. To counteract the effect of Old Sol's rays, use tailored curtains with equal size hems, top and bottom, so the ends may be reversed after laundering.

Village Theatre to present 'Night Must Fall' early next year

The Arlington players, now officially named the "Village Theatre," are deep in rehearsals for their first production, "Night Must Fall," to be given early next year.

In locating some of the more difficult properties the play calls for, they are asking the aid of villagers. The most essential property in the play is, probably, the wheelchair used in every scene. If any one has one or knows of one which could be made available for the cast of the play to borrow, he is asked to call the group's secretary, Mrs. Frank Waldbillig, Arlington Heights 1386-J.

The Village Theatre always welcomes new members, and any one interested in working on the production of "Night Must Fall"

—a great deal of help backstage and in the business end as well is needed—is invited to get in touch with the officers, either Mrs. Waldbillig, or Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, the president, at Arlington Heights 2362-J; Mrs. G. DOUBLE WEEKEND ON TAP FOR ARLINGTON AND NW SCHOOLS

Bisons host to Palatine Saturday; at N'brook Friday

by BOB PADDOCK

Biggest games of the week as far as local fans are concerned are Bensenville's two contests against Northbrook Friday night and at home against Palatine Saturday.

The Bisons are not up to par of other years this season, having dropped three of four games to date in Northwest league play. Coach Frank Navotney's boys will be out to pull a couple of upsets this week however, particularly when they meet Palatine.

The Northbrook-Bison affair at the northern school Friday night rates fairly close with the Vikings getting the nod. In other contests that evening Palatine plays host to Grant, and should win; Ela will add to their 3-1 record at Wauconda; and Barrington will roll on over Antioch.

The Bronchos thus far are decidedly the class of the league, and will probably continue that way. They poured three victories through the hoops to date, averaging 59 points per contest. Such a pace could be the best since the 1941 Pirate five.

THEN SATURDAY Palatine moves on to Bensenville in the first double week end of Northwest conference play. Coach Stutzman's boys should cop this one, but they have been alternately hot and cold thus far, and the Bisons could turn the tables.

Wauconda at Grant will be a battle between the last placers, while Ela will probably have a rough time of it against Antioch. Past scores would indicate a whopping victory for the Bears, who beat Palatine, which in turn walloped the Sequoits.

But Buchta didn't play against the Pirates and his addition to the squad makes a big difference for the northmen. The Broncho-Northbrook contest is slated for Wednesday night,December 21.

DePaul vs Loyola, NU meets Notre Dame at Stadium

Civil war breaks out at the Chicago Stadium this Saturday night when Northwestern's Wildcats test their chances against Notre Dame while DePaul and Loyola have their own battle.

Northwestern should have a good season this year with practically their entire squad of last season back, this time as juniors. NU didn't fare at all well last season but have improved.

Notre Dame took a beating Tuesday night from Wisconsin, 56-48. The Wildcats dropped a close one to Colorado last week, but Friday could spell victory for the Evanston five. However, most experts give the nod to the Irish.

LOYOLA'S coach, Tom Hagerty, expressed the sentiment of all regarding his battle with DePaul Saturday night when he said, "This should be a typical Loyola-DePaul game. All the players are Chicago boys and they key themselves psychologically for this contest. The team that is supposed to lose often wins."

Hagerty is enthused about senior guard Ralph Klaerich. Though but five feet ten inches, Klaerich is slated to be a pack of trouble for everyone concerned. He's the team's leading scorer with 106 tallies in six games to date.

DePaul went up against unbeaten Indiana Tuesday night and when the final gun sounded the Hoosiers remained that way, 61-55. DePaul held the lead until five minutes into the second half, the margin at one time stretching to 11 points before a Demon rally.

Sleighbells up for grabs as Cards meet Palatine Wed.

Next Wednesday Arlington Heights and Palatine play the first of their annual two game series for the Sleigh Bells Trophy. The Palatine gym will be taxed to capacity for this game between the neighboring rivals. Arlington does not have as strong a team as last season but they have shown very good playing in three games to date against strong opposition. Palatine is better than last year but to date has either played hot or cold, and has been quite inconsistent. Palatine has won three and lost three.

Doors at Palatine will open at 6:30 next Wednesday night. Admission will be 60c for adults and 40c for students to conform to Arlington admission rates.

Since the sleigh bells were put into competition in 1943 Arlington Heights and Palatine have met 12 times with Arlington winning eight and the Pirates four. Palatine won the first two games played in this competition and Arlington has dominated the situation since. Up to the time the sleigh bells trophy was put up by the Arlington Dads Club, Palatine had taken 10 straight varsity games from the Cardinals. Right now Arlington has a record of taking eight out of the last 10 from Palatine. Wednesday Arlington will be the favorite in what should be a close battle.

This is how the trophy reads

The state championship finals will be held at the University of Illinois arch 16-18. Mt. Vernon is the defending champion; Hillsboro was runnerup.

Bisons lose to Antioch, 48-34

Bensenville kept even for one half with Antioch Friday night in Northwest league competition, but then were stymied for one quarter while the Sequoits tallied sixteen. The Bisons lost, 48-34.

Coach Frank Novotney's boys led at the first period, 9-8, and were just one tally behind at the intermission, 22-21. It was then that the DuPage five-s offense mired, with just one free throw being added. Antioch went ahead, 38-22, going into the home stretch.

For Bensenville Anderson was high man with six buckets and three charities. Just eleven personals were called against the Bisons, though Erickson suffered half of those with five.

Antioch scoring was divided evenly with Cardiff garnering 12, Wilton and T. Havlin nine, and B. Havlin seven.

Biever held to 3 baskets, but Arlington loses, 35-23

Close guarding on the part of Jim Brown kept West Aurora's ace Johnny Biever from adding more than three baskets to his season's total. Jim (29) is pictured here attempting to keep Biever (77) from hitting the hoop.

by BOB PADDOCK

Double weekends for all local schools are on tap this week with Arlington's Cardinals no exception. Big difference for Coach Gene Bell's boys is that they won't have to travel out of town either night, with two big games on tap for the locals.

Leyden, led by Mascia, Lofgren and Dick Spera, comes to the Heights Friday night for the first of the two doubleheaders in the Arlington Heights gym.

Last year the Cards and Eagles met twice, splitting the two "conference" meetings, while the boys from the south copped the rubber tilt in the Palatine holiday tournament. Arlington took the first contest last year against Leyden, 42-40, but succumbed the other two times, 35-24 and 49-40.

Coach Gene Bell's cagers will have to be hitting the hoop with regularity, too, Friday night inasmuch as 51 of those 119 scores Leyden made last year against the Cards are back again in the persons of Mascia and Dick Spera.

THESE TWO boys added 18, 17 and 16 points in the three meetings of last season and help make the Eagles 10 point favorites this week. Big disadvantage for the Eagles will be the playing floor. The locals' court is much larger than the Franklin Park cracker box.

Mascia and Lofgren are both tall boys rated "tough" on the backboards. Spera suffered a shoulder injury in football but is fully recovered now.

Officials for this game are Otto Kuehn of Chicago and A. C. Roskie of Woodstock.

THEN SATURDAY night Saybrook comes to Arlington for the second half of the double weekend. Saybrook, though the smallest school on the Cards' slate, still rates as among the best. The tiny central Illinois school of 90 students was just one game from the "Sweet Sixteen" last spring. They bowed out of state tourney play in sectional finals against Champaign.

Most of their same team is back this year with five victories in six starts already under their belts. Only loss so far this season was by a two point margin to undefeated Buckley.

Principal Richard Brown is a graduate of Woodstock high school, and is showing his boys and coach, Dean Short, the advantages of northern Illinois.

WEDNESDAY night, December 21, Arlington travels to Palatine to gain another notch in the sleighbells trophy, though the experts rate the contest as a 50-50 affair. Friday night of next week the Cards are at home against Niles.

Woodstock to crack down on gambling

As the result of a protest made by Aldermen Wm. H. DeWolf, Gordon Botts and Charles Botts and Charles Paine, in connection with alleged gambling in Woodstock, Emery (Tiny) Hansman, police chief, issued orders that gambling of any kind and description must stop immediately in the city.

"I don't mean just punch boards and slot machines but feather parties, bingo games, carnivals, selling of chances on merchandise of any kinds, money drawings at club or lodge meetings and suit clubs," Chief Hansman said.

"I am strictly on the spot in this matter and I want to make my position clear. I have no other alternative than to put the lid on tight and keep it that way," Hansman continued.

During the first nine months of this year some 2500 European-bound Americans took their own cars with them, reports the Chicago Motor Club.

Make pairings for DeKalb holiday tournament

East Aurora vs. Arlington, Rock Island vs. Niles, and Naperville vs. Leyden—those are the pairings of local teams in the 22nd annual DeKalb holiday tournament slated for the afternoons and evenings of December 27, 28, 29 and 30.

The DeKalb tourney is rated tops among Northern Illinois holiday affairs and with the array of talent scheduled to compete for honors this season, 1949 will be no exception.

Top seeded squad among the sixteen schools is West Aurora, which last season lost just one contest in the state tournament trail, and which has most of the same team back again.

PAIRINGS were made Tuesday morning of this week with the Fox River school heading the top bracket, while Riverside-Brookfield, seeded No. 2, plays in the bottom half.

Arlington Heights meets East Aurora Wednesday afternoon, December 28, at 3:30 p. m., with the winner going on to meet the Riverside-Sycamore victor the next evening at 7:30.

Niles opens play Tuesday night of that week against Rock Island, while Leyden starts tourney competition Tuesday afternoon, December 27, at 3:30.

THE USUAL manner of eliminations will be followed with top bracket winners competing Thursday afternoon, bottom group victors playing Thursday night. Friday afternoon will see the semi finals, while the championship contest wil occur Friday night.

There will be no consolation game.

Cage fans in this area unable to attend the tournament will find several radio stations, both AM and FM covering the meet. For the standard band radios WMRO of Aurora and WLBK of DeKalb will broadcast the games, while WBNU-FM of Aurora will cover the contests on the megacycle circuit.

COMPLETE LIST of pairings, according to ace publicist Bud Nangle, former Palatine graduate, now working for the DeKalb Chronicle, are:

Tuesday:
Game No. 1—West Aurora vs. Genoa, 2:00.
Game No. 2—Naperville vs. Leyden, 3:30.
Game No. 3—Rock Island vs. Niles, 7:30.
Game No. 4—Belvidere vs. Waterman, 9:00.
Wednesday
Game No. 5—Riverside-Brookfield vs Sycamore, 2:00.
Game No. 6—East Aurora vs. Arlington Heights, 3:30.
Game No. 7—DeKalb vs. Kirkland, 7:30.
Game No. 8—Glenbard vs. Shabonna, 9:00.
THURSDAY
Game No. 9—Winner Nos. 1-2, 2:00.
Game No. 10—Winner Nos. 3-4, 3:30.
Game No. 11—Winner Nos. 5-6, 7:30.
Game No. 12—Winner Nos. 7-8, 9:00.

Game No. 14—Winner Nos. 11-12, 3:15.
Game No. 15—Winner Nos. 13-14, 8:00.

OFFICIALS for the tournament include Robert Young and William Carlin, who worked at the state tournament at Champaign last year, and Frank Falzone of Rockford and John Pace of Champaign. Young hails from Maywood while Carlin calls Peoria home when off the court.

Information as to allocation of tickets was not known at press time, but the ducats will probably be prorated among the four participating schools in each session.

Stags vs Rochester this Friday; meet New York Tuesday; Trotters to play

Chicago Stags continued their winning ways on the Chicago Stadium floor Tuesday night when they rallied to best Philadelphia's Warriors, 75-65. A disappointing 2,661 fans watched the first of three home contests before the year runs out.

This Friday night the strong Rochester Royals come to Chicago, while the following Tuesday Coach Phil Brownstein's men attempt to shake the overtime jinx against the New York Knickerbockers.

Preliminary Friday will pit the Chicago Huskies against the Michigan City Moose (or is it Mooses or Meese). Other contest Tuesday night will pit the Harlem Globetrotters against the New York Celtics.

Coaches basketball without a gym

Jack Norris, who is coaching the lads of Wheeling Consolidated School District 21, says that his boys may not have a gym in which to practice, but they don't hesitate to meet competing schools with full athletic equipment. "They are getting just as much enjoyment out of basketball," says Norris "as their more fortunate opponents."

After his discharge from the army in 1946, Norris completed his college work at Northwestern from which he graduated last June. He previously attended Northern Illinois State College at DeKalb.

He is married and has two daughters Adrienne, 2, and Miriam, 6 months.

Jack and his boys are looking forward to the time when the school gym can be returned to its original purpose.

Discovery of Asbestos

Asbestos was first discovered more than 2,000 years ago in the Italian Alps. Its elastic fibers were woven into burial wraps for Roman emperors.

MACSAYS

by G. A. McELROY

When the Barrington-Ela score of 60-28 was phoned in Friday night we said, "It's all over." Ela had beaten Palatine, Bensenville, and Northbrook in close games. The Barrington five had whipped Wauconda, completely routed Grant 77-24, and swamped Bensenville 54-20. The only school not mentioned in this connection is Antioch. They have won three out of four but lost to Palatine 55-29. Friday they get their chance against Barrington and will tumble the same as the others. Only four games in a 14 tilt schedule have been played but Barrington is in, unless an epidemic keeps the team out of action for several weeks.

All-league football players cage regulars

Barrington placed six boys in the first all-conference football team. Five of them make up the starting team in basketball including Roake, Hansen, Armanetti, Frey and Shuett. There is a football-basketball combination without parallel in this conference or any other, we believe. We would not be surprised if they made a better record than the undefeated Palatine team of 1940-41 which had its closest game of the conference season a 17 point margin, a 36-19 win over second place Wauconda. On that team were Snyder, Hahnfeldt, Hollinger, DeBerge, and Hildebrandt. They also lost one game in winning the championship as juniors and then breezed in undefeated as seniors. Barrington lost one last year but looks like a winner all the way this season.

Buchta back at Antioch as Sequoits win three straight

Antioch will be tough the rest of the way. After Palatine outshot the Sequoits 55-29 in the opener we felt that we had pulled a boner picking them for first division. Now Irving Buchta is back at center and the team has taken three straight.

Buchta was second all conference center a year ago but did not go out for basketball this year until two weeks ago. He can make Antioch a really rugged team or a real flop. He has done both so far in a hectic athletic career at Antioch. We cannot be sure which it will be this time.

Wauconda makes pairings for holiday tourney

Last Friday night before the Palatine-Wauconda games your writer was asked to make the drawings for the Wauconda holiday tournament. The Wauconda players told me they hoped I'd draw Grant. That was exactly what happened so the Northwest tail enders will meet each other while two much stronger teams, Ela and Grayslake will meet in the opposite bracket. The tournament is set for December 27 and 28.

Lakers running away with North Suburban race

Over in the North Suburban League Max Brady's Crystal Lake Tigers are running wild as they more than double the score on each league opponent. They are a cinch for a second straight league trophy and might, for a change, upset the Dundee-Elgin tournament monopoly in this area come March. Recently they whipped Dundee for the second defeat in five years for the Cardu-nals on their home floor by a 62-47 score. Phil Raywood, an active six foot five center, is the big reason for the Tigers' success. Against Dundee he poured in 26 points from the pivot spot.

Cards have edge on Sleigh Bells trophy

The sleigh bells trophy is again at stake as Arlington plays basketball at Palatine next Wednesday night in a pre-holiday game. The Arlington Dads Club put up this unique trophy a few years ago as an incentive for Arlington to get going against their neighboring rivals who had beaten them 10 straight times.

The first year Palatine took over the trophy by winning both games but since that time it has been in the Arlington trophy case at long enough intervals to collect a coat of dust.

During the Iba-Bell regime basketball has come up strong at Arlington. Last year the Cards graduated all the regular players except little Gordon Busse and seemed headed for an off year. A close victory over St. Edward of Elgin and a fairly close defeat at West Aurora last week stamps Arlington as a comer. West Aurora has three regulars from a team which captured third in the state and was expected to swamp Arlington by 20 to 30 points.

Palatine has a strong team but an inconsistent one. They could beat Arlington or they might lose by quite a margin. One thing you can be sure of. The Arlington-Palatine games will not be race horse affairs for neither Coach Bell or Coach Stutzman play that type of ball. They both like ball control, slow break offenses, with much concentration on defense.

Wednesday's game at Palatine stacks up as a good attraction whoever wins. Palatine is calling this their basketball home-

Northbrook cops two from Grant

by WARNER BACHAR

Northbrook's Vikings were victors of both games of a doubleheader last Friday. It marked the first time this year that Northbrook's teams captured a double header. The game was also the Frosh-Soph's first conference victory this season.

The varsity coasted to a 56 to 40 victory which was started by Jim Huhta's pair of baskets in the beginning of the game. The Bulldogs were slow in starting but gave the Vikings a hard-fought battle after the first period. The Bulldogs never once approached Northbrook's score closer than 12 points. The score of the game, which was played on Northbrook's home court, at the half was 34 to 15 in favor of the Vikings.

"Ace" McWilliams' brilliant defensive play and Roy Hacker's rebounding were quite an influence upon the outcome of the game. Richard Rodney's superbly executed shots were also a standout in the game. Buchal of Grant and Rodney of the Vikings tied for high scoring honors with 18 points each.

The Frosh-Soph won a closely-fought game by a score of 37 to 33. High man for both teams was Art Landwehr of Northbrook with 14 points. Moore of Northbrook and Smiejkal of Grant followed up with 13 apiece.

The next game on Northbrook's card will be December 16 at Northbrook. It will be played against Bensenville.

Niles edges East Rockford

by AL KRUEGER

The Nilehi varsity five plays host tonight, Friday, December 16, to the raft Eagles of the City League.

Don Walter's basket and free throw, with 25 seconds remaining, were all the Trojans needed in edging, East Rockford 44 to 43 last Friday, December 9, on the local floor.

East Hi led at the end of the initial period 11 to 10. Sparked by Fred Brei and Ken Howard the Men of Troy jumped to a 25 to 20 halftime lead.

East Hi fought back to cut the Trojan lead to a one point margin at the three quarter mark.

EAST HI led 43 to 41 then Walter's basket and free shot put Nilehi into the victory column.

Rog Stelma, of East Hi, copped scoring honors with 16 points while Ken Howard and Fred Brei registered 14 and 13 points respectively for the Men of Troy.

On the following night a sharpshooting Mooseheart five downed the Trojans 55 to 47 on the Rambler Court.

Harry Childress, sharpshooting Mooseheart guard poured in 15 points in the first half to help give the Ramblers a 9 point advantage at halftime.

LED BY FRED BREI and Ken Howard the Trojans cut the Ramblers lead to just one basket with just 4 minutes remaining in the game. Mooseheart, however, took command to rack up a 55 to 47 victory.

Harry Childress tallied 21 points for Mooseheart while Ken Howard and Fred Brei led the Trojans with 13 and 12 points respectively.

Arlington holds West Aurora to 35-23 count

by RON PRELLBERG

A total of 35 markers, compared to the 23 of Arlington, was all the West Aurora quintet needed to spell out a perfect evening on their own court last Friday before an overflow crowd of twenty-one hundred spectators. A lot of inevitable fouling was recorded by the Heights' five as an unsuccessful effort was put forth to stop the taller Aurora boys from scoring. Another bad night was displayed by the Cards at the basket as they came out with a 26% shooting average by hitting only 9 of their 34 attempted field goals.

A pressing defense was applied by the home team from the very beginning of the game until the final whistle. The difference of one basket in favor of the West Aurora Blackhawks was all that kept the local five from knotting up a fast moving first quarter at 7 tallies apiece.

Johnny Beiver took over full responsibility of the Blackhawks scoring department during the second frame as he notched all of their 7 points, thus raising their half time score to 14 counters. Gordon Busse, the locals' number one man, collected 3 of the Cardinals 4 second period markers setting their midway count at 9 counters.

A 10 point lead was taken by the victors at the end of the third segment and increased to 12 as the last second of the final quarter was run off. Chuck Mitchler, 6 foot 5 inch center, managed to push in 3 tallies and 4 charity tosses before the game ended and thus grabbed the Blackhawks' highest scoring position for the night. Gordon Busse and Bob Evans hit for the majority of the locals' 23 points, with 10 and 8 points respectively.

A DEFINITE improvement was shown by the Red Bird frosh-sophs during their portion of the program, although they came out on the short end of a 35 to 29 count. Jim Intravartolo not only paced the Arlington bucketeers in the scoring angle but came forth with an unusual display of defensive play which proved to be a great benefit to the junior Cards.

The 4-point margin gained over the locals in the 1st quarter was narrowed down to a mere 1 counter before the end of the 2nd frame brought a temporary halt to the action.

The 3rd quarter saw the West Aurora frosh-sophs slip smoothly away from their opponents to record a 9 point lead by the termination of that frame. This lead, however, was cut down to 6 counters as the gun brought a halt to the contest, leaving the final count at 35-29.

Ronald Oros captured the scoring spotlight for the home team with 11 points, while for Arlington Jim Intravartolo did likewise with 10 tallies to his credit.

Leyden cops frosh battle, 23-22, in Arlington gym

by RON PRELLBERG

A lot of promising talent was disclosed last Monday afternoon when the AHTHS freshman cagers opened their 1949-50 basketball season on their home court in a tilt with the Franklin Park freshmen of Leyden Community high school. Each team tried desperately to make good their first trial as a high school cage team with Leyden becoming the victor in a close 23 to 22 battle.

Leyden took the lead and continued to hold on to it until an early third quarter rally on the part of the young Cardinals swept them ahead of their opponents, when the buzzer told the end of the third frame, by a 4 point margin, 17-13.

The pressure that hovered over the Red Birds during the fourth and final period permitted the visitors to creep within 3 points of their opponents and by the time the clock read 1 minute to play the Leydenites had made good 1 basket and a charity toss to capture a 3-point lead. Tom Coulter in a desperate attempt to even the score dumped in a long shot but was a little too late as time was quickly running out.

Dick McAuliffe made good his introduction into the basketball field at Arlington by totaling eight counters to obtain the high scoring crown of the day.

two minutes to go Barrington took a four point lead which held up as George Hansen hit three out of four free throws to stave off a late Hebron drive.

The Bronchos made 13 field goals in 32 shots for 41% while Hebron scored 13 also in 42 shots for 31%. Both teams had 14 free throw attempts with Barrington winning the game by making good on eight to Hebron's six. George Hansen was high scorer with 12 points. D. Nichols and Judson scored 10 apiece while Halstead had nine for Hebron.

Barrington frosh-sophs were trounced 41-28 in the preliminary as Wilbrandt of Hebron tallied 25 points. Cochran, flashy freshman forward, was high for Barrington with nine points.

Barrington rolls on; takes Ela in stride for NW lead

In the game to decide the Northwest Conference lead last Friday night the Barrington Bronchos scored as they pleased to rout Ela's challengers 60-28. Barrington took a 14-4 lead in the first quarter, increased it to 29-12 at the half and pulled still farther away 51-21 in the third period. Ela made only six field goals but they did hit 16 out of 22 free throws. Barrington hit 49% of their field shots most of which were inside the free throw line.

Steve Roake, who is fast rounding into one of the best scorers in the league, was high with 13 points for the Bronchos followed by George Hansen with 11. Geary had nine points and Grever seven for Ela. A total of 45 fouls were called in the game but only Schwarz of Ela was eliminated.

Barrington's frosh-sophs also made it four straight conference victories as they whipped Ela 32-25. Barrington now has a two game lead on the field in the sophomore division. Cuscaden of Ela scored 16 of his team's 25 points.

SATURDAY NIGHT Barrington had a close call in a great ball game at Hebron but came out on top, 34-32, handing Hebron their first loss in eight games. Neither team made a substitution in a game in which the lead see-sawed right down to the final two minutes. With

Pirates play in Mooseheart tournament

Mooseheart has been coming to the Palatine Relays and this winter gave that as a reason for returning the favor and including the Pirates in their 16 team tournament to be held December 27 to 31. As we see it Crystal Lake, Mooseheart, Geneva, and St. Edward of Elgin, the defending champ might be rated as the strongest quartet.

We look for Crystal Lake to come out on top. Others in the 16 are Lemont, Woodstock, McHenry, Richmond, York of Elmhurst, Lockport, Marengo, West Chicago, St. Charles, St. Thomas of Rockford, and Hinckley. We expect to announce the pairings next week.

Paddock sports writer saw Bears play nine times this fall

Our congratulations to Bob Paddock, partner in writing these sport pages, on the success of the Chicago Bears, particularly last Sunday. Bob became a dyed in the wool Bear fan a couple of years ago and this season saw the Halas men play on nine occasions.

We have leaned toward the Chicago Cardinals just as we have toward the south side White Sox in baseball. Needless to say we have had little to get enthused about this year, either in baseball or football.

On the Sidelines

by RON PRELLBERG

Much credit is due Jim Brown, who put in a whale of a defensive performance last Friday, when he held Johnny Beiver, an all-state cager, to 9 markers, all of which came during the first half.

The 35 to 23 count of last Friday's encounter definitely was not an indication of the type of ball the Cards played. Proof of the locals complimentary showing was distinguished the following night when West Aurora dealt Proviso of Maywood a stunning defeat.

That peculiar cheer which was heard frequently during the game was an effort on the part of the student body to promote a bond issue of 2½ million dollars for a new West Aurora High School. The cheer went as follows "Vote Yes! Dec. tenth."

The AHTHS frosh-soph turned in their best performance so far, both offensively and defensively against the Blackhawks last Friday night but are working all the harder to overcome an always tough Leyden squad. This will be the first tilt of the abbreviated Northeast Conference for both the frosh-soph and varsity. The three remaining members of this condensed conference are Leyden, Niles, and Arlington.

The Cards' new uniforms have been promised in time for the DeKalb Holiday Tourney.

Chewing Cloves

The custom of chewing cloves to sweeten the breath is over 4,000 years old. The earliest record of this spice comes from China, where court officers were required to hold cloves in their mouths when addressing the king.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 18, will be:

"IS THE UNIVERSE, INCLUDING MAN, EVOLVED BY ATOMIC FORCE?"

The Golden Text is:

"Ah Lord God! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee" (Jer. 32: 17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon, the following are from the Bible:

"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth . . . And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: . . . So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them . . . And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good" (Gen. 1: 1, 26, 27, 31).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Man is the family name for all ideas,—the sons and daughters of God. All that God imparts moves in accord with Him, reflecting goodness and power . . . The substance, Life, intelligence, Truth and Love, which constitute Deity, are reflected by His creation; and when we subordinate the false testimony of the corporeal senses to the facts of Science, we shall see this true likeness and reflection everywhere" (pp. 515, 516).

200 attend Lutheran Mission Crusaders Christmas party

Approximately 200 Lutheran Mission Crusaders, their families and friends, attended the annual Christmas party held Sunday evening, December 11, at St. Paul's Lutheran school hall in Mt. Prospect.

After a potluck supper, the Crystal Lake Men's chorus rendered several Christmas selections under the direction of Ray Runge. Children picked from the audience at random sang several Christmas carols under the direction of teacher Walter Gerth. Guests of the Mission Crusaders and also members of the Crystal Lake Men's Chorus were Henry Anfelt and Toni Anfelt of Estonia in Europe who are now residing in Crystal Lake.

Santa Claus appeared in person to give each child a gift from the "grabbag" and movies were shown to carry out the Christmas theme.

Public invited to see Nativity scene at Memory Gardens

Memory Gardens on Euclid avenue, near Rand rd., Arlington Heights, has constructed a beautiful Nativity scene which is open to the public every night until 9, from now until Christmas.

Shown above is this scene as it is lighted for the public to see. These life-like figures depict the Christ Child and Mary and Joseph, the Three Wise Men and the crib in the manger. Christmas music is amplified over a public address system and the entire ensemble is one that is really worth seeing. (Photo by Jaffe)

MORE PEOPLE HAVE BOUGHT CHEVROLETS than any other make —just as they have done during the total 19-year period, 1931 to date!

FIRST in passenger car sales for '49*

THE men and women of America know value when they see it!

Consequently, they are purchasing more Chevrolet passenger cars than any other make . . . and more Chevrolet trucks than the next two makes combined . . . thereby placing Chevrolet first in sales this year, just as they have done for the total 19-year period, 1931 to date.

Naturally, we and all Chevrolet dealers are deeply appreciative of this overwhelming tribute of preference; and we join with Chevrolet in pledging to do everything possible to give you greater and greater value in the months and years to come.

POOR BRUMMELL

George Bryan Brummell, better known as Beau Brummell, reverses the saying "from rags to riches." According to the World Book Encyclopedia, Brummell set the styles for men's fashions and manners in England for twenty years but spent so much money for his fancy duds that he had to flee from England to France in 1816 to escape his creditors.

Pirates top Wauconda five, 53-25

Pirates in high gear in 53-25 Wauconda win

Palatine teams played in high gear Friday night as they remained in second place in the standings with victories over Wauconda's Bulldogs. The varsity hit the basket consistently to pile up a 34-13 half time lead and then the second five took over for the remainder of the game, finishing on top 53-25. The frosh-sophs ran away to a 19-8 lead at the half but after failing to score in the third quarter had their hands full but won 29-22.

Klein scored six field goals, Waznik four, and Mair three as Palatine ran up a one-sided first half lead on Wauconda. In the second half Rogers and Guenther went in at forwards, Ross and Merfeld at guards, and Waznik and Steinbrinck alternated at center through the second half. Their ball handling was smooth but their shooting was inaccurate or the final count of 53 might have been much worse. In the final tabulation Klein scored 13 points for one half and Waznik had 14 for three quarters. Lindmark, Wauconda's smooth working center, scored 14 and Anderson got eight for 22 of Wauconda's 25 points.

Wauconda moved Nolan, leading varsity scorer and a sophomore, back to the frosh-soph team but his presence could not give them the expected victory over Palatine. Palatine's six foot six soph center, Don Buenzow, was with the varsity squad until Friday night but had seen almost no action so will play frosh-soph ball from this point. He scored no field goals but bunched the Wauconda defense so that other Palatine players got better shots. It was Dan Day who sparked the Pirate sophs to their 29-22 victory. In addition to scoring 11 points Day played a fine floor guard game. Vogt and Zoellick each scored seven points. Nolan got 10 points for Wauconda of which six were free throws. Wauconda got only four field goals.

Hunters should return bands on legs of ducks to aid future of sport

Aluminum bands, which hunters may find on the legs of some migratory game birds, form the principal source of information on the movements and habits of feathered legions. The importance of sportsmen returning recovered bands cannot be overemphasized, the Wildlife Management Institute believes. Those found but not returned to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service represent much more time, money, and hard work wasted than most hunters realize.

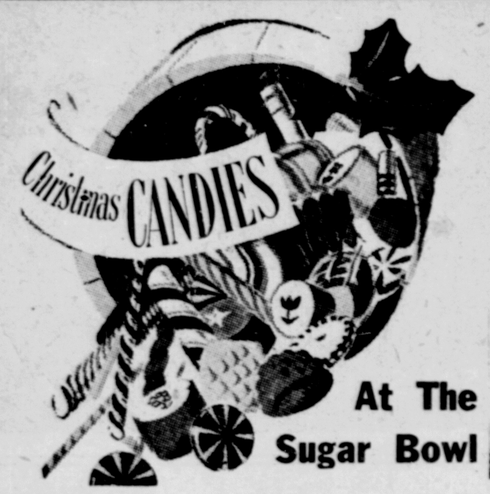

A band from the leg of a black duck bagged by a hunter in North Carolina may have been placed on the bird by a technician in northern Canada after miles of travel by plane, by canoe, and on foot. A pintail banded in Utah may show up in the bag of a hunter in Hawaii. Individually these returns mean little, but when added to other records in the files of the Fish and Wildlife Service, each return serves as a piece of a jigsaw puzzle—when enough are assembled, a pattern becomes sharp and clear. Returned bands have told scientists where ducks from the various breeding grounds spend the winter. They tell the route birds take in their seasonal migrations and the life expectancy of the various species. All of these data are essential as the basis for a sound waterfowl management program.

WHEN A BAND is found on a game bird's leg, it should be removed and placed in an envelope with a card telling the place and date of recovery and the number of the band. Straightening the band may prevent its tearing through the envelope and being lost in transit. The band the hunter sends in may be the key which will unlock some hitherto unknown fact about the life history and needs of his favorite game bird.

Farmers and landowners plagued by a superabundance of weeds in farm fish ponds will be interested in a 28-page booklet recently released by the Virginia Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit and the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, the Wildlife Management Institute believes.

The booklet, entitled "Weed Control in Small Ponds" by H. W. Jackson evaluates all known methods of control of aquatic vegetation in terms of effectiveness, safety to stock and humans, and effects upon wildlife and fish populations. Copies may be obtained without charge from the Virginia Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Virginia.

Superintendent's club meeting at new high school in Barrington

The West Suburban Superintendent's club held a combined luncheon and business meeting at the Barrington high school last Tuesday. R. E. Clabaugh, supt. of the Arlington Heights grade schools, and L. R. Murphy, supt. of the Mount Prospect grade school, were among those attending.

The club toured the new building, had luncheon, and then held its meeting. They then transferred to the Jewel Tea plant, where they viewed a movie, "Merchandise Goes Modern," and heard a talk on the Jewel's personnel policies. A forum with top Jewel executives was also held. Those who desired were taken on a tour of the Jewel

Alice thought things were wacky in Wonderland – she should see records of accidents with safety council

So little Alice thought things were wacky in Wonderland! She should have stuck around and seen what the National Safety Council dug up in 1949 in its annual roundup of odd accidents. To wit:

Every ballplayer dreams of the day he's as hot as a firecracker. But few attain it as literally as Outfielder Norman Lawrence of an East Oakland, Calif., sandlot team. Thirteen-year-old Norman chased a fly ball so vigorously that the friction of his pants ignited some matches in his pocket. The matches touched off a pocketful of firecrackers Norm had been hoarding. He banged his way spectacularly across the outfield and caught the fly—to the thunderous cheers of his amazed and delighted teammates.

Gives self hotseat

In the same anatomical category is the fascinating case of Ivan Harzell of Yreka, Calif., who gave not a hotfoot but a hotseat to, of all people, himself. Mr. Harzell was working in a field with a sodium chlorate weed killer that impregnated his trousers. The highly inflammable chemical was touched off by friction when Mr. Harzell rammed his hand into his pocket, and his pants exploded.

Statistics show that very few cars skid on icy streets in New York City in midsummer. But that's what happened on the hottest day of the year in 1949. A taxicab driven by Arthur Irise crashed into another taxi. Irise explained to police that his cab had skidded on ice that had fallen from a truck. He was advised to put on chains.

Mrs. Lowell Long is used to hearing her neighbors in Cedar Rapids, Ia., say that her biscuits are always surefire. Nonetheless, she was startled when shots rang out from the hot oven into which she had just dropped a pan of dough. Then she remembered that when the family left on a recent vacation, two revolvers had been hidden in the stove.

Fully aware that things are tough all over, police in Sacramento, Calif., nevertheless were surprised to get a report that an automobile had picked the pocket of a pedestrian and escaped with $102. The victim, W. T. Taylor, had walked too close to a moving car. His coat pocket—wallet and all—was ripped off by the auto and carried away.

In Bridgeport, Conn., a box of cookies set fire to a house at 153 Charles Street. How? Well, the box toppled from a kitchen shelf onto the handle of a water faucet, turning on the water. The cookies spilled out and clogged the drain. The sink overflowed, the water seeped through the floor, a short circuit resulted, and fire broke out.

Capt. Cook Memorial

The spot where the remarkable British navigator, Captain James Cook, was slain by natives in Kealakekua Bay, Hawaii, is marked by a bronze tablet placed underwater. This memorial, below the surface of the sea, is visible only at low tide, and is probably the only one of its kind.

Tractor Fuel Waste

It has been estimated that the average tractor operator wastes about 12 dollars worth of fuel annually. Collectively, the 2.75 million tractor operators of the nation waste enough fuel to fill a train of tank cars more than 900 miles long.

New cemetery to depict life of Christ in stone; dedication this Sunday

The suburban area is well on its way toward having a cemetery which several church leaders feel will have a new and significant spiritual value. Memorial Estates, on Wolf rd., near Fullerton ave., will formally dedicate its Open Bible shrine on Sunday, December 18, at 3 p. m. Speakers will include Rev. Bernard Kruse, regional director for the National Association of Evangelicals, and Rev. Henry Holmbo, of North Side Gospel Center. Civic speakers will be William N. Erickson, president of the County Board, and Louis E. Nelson, county treasurer.

The Crab Orchard stone Bible, with the Lord's Prayer hand carved, is the largest Open Bible in the world. Fourteen feet across the pages and 11 feet high, it is set on a 32-foot base in a 60-foot flagstone patio. It is but the first in a series of rock shrines and gardens depicting scenes from the life of Christ and parts of the Bible Story. The shrines, constructed in each new section as the cemetery expands, add magnitude and spiritual beauty to the cemetery.

The second shrine, to depict Christ praying at Gethsemane in a rock setting nearly 100 feet wide, is already being planned for the second garden. Other shrines will portray the Lord's Supper, the 23rd Psalm, and the Resurrection.

Flat bronze markers are used on individual graves rather than stone monuments, and large flower beds are planted in the various gardens. This gives Memorial Estates the appearance of a beautiful park, rather than a conventional cemetery.

Future plans call for two lakes on the creek which runs through the property. Memorial Estates includes 80 acres of land.

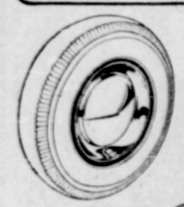

Corn Husking

Under normal conditions mature ear corn is husked and cribbed at a moisture content of 18 to 25 per cent.

"THE WAY"

I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.
—Christ Jesus

An era in human history is the life of Jesus, and its immense influence for good leaves all the perversion and superstition that has accrued almost harmless.
—Emerson

The only sound and durable foundation for true fellowship and brotherhood is love for God, and the teachings of Christ (Jesus) that direct us in love for others. —Henry Geerlings

Christianity is not a theory or speculation, but a life; not a philosophy of life, but a life and a living process. —Coleridge

Past, present, or future philosophy or religion, which departs from the instructions and example of the great Galilean Prophet, cannot be Christlike.
—Mary Baker Eddy

The only way to realize that we are God's children is to let Christ lead us to our Father.
—Phillips Brooks

The younger generation

Bright eyes

This little miss is Marilyn, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon T. Cook, 217 Williams st., Arlington Heights. Marilyn has brown hair and brown eyes, and is in kindergarten at the new Palatine consolidated school.

Marilyn has two sisters, Jeanette, 11, a sixth grader, and Helen, 18, a recent high school graduate. Marilyn is affectionately called "Butch" by her family.

A doll buggy heads the list Marilyn's Christmas wants. She has a rubber doll she takes to school every day, and is known as a little helper at school.

There's nothing she likes better than mothering her many dolls, and also the other children in her kindergarten class. Her mother describes her as "motherly". Even at the bus stop she helps her schoolmates on the bus. A very responsible little girl we'd say.

Merry little one

Next picture is Constance, six-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Guade, 302 E. Colfax. Connie is a blue-eyed blonde. We were unable to contact her parents for further information so this piece will have to be short. From her picture Connie looks like a happy miss.

Now he's tough

Alan or "Stevie", four, is the younger child of the E. W. Hadlands of 702 Park st., Arlington Heights. His older sister, Carole, 12, and brother, Kenneth, 9, decided to shorten his middle name Stephen and call him "Stevie" because they thought Alan didn't sound tough enough.

Stevie likes to play cowboys and tops his Christmas order with a real horse. But one thing reminds him of another and if Santa can't get a horse here, his mother hopes he will be satisfied with any of the other innumerable items on that list.

Even while we talked to his mother on the phone, he could be heard in the background saying, "Oh yes, that reminds me, I want—" He also is an enthusiastic television fan, Howdy Doody and Lucky Pup being among his favorites.

30 years service

David J. Reardon, 318 N. Pine st., Mount Prospect, received the congratulations of his friends and associates at Commonwealth Edison Company Tuesday (December 6) when he celebrated the completion of 30 years of service in the transportation department. Employed in 1919 as a repairman, he later became assistant night foreman, night foreman, supervisor of night garage service and is now supervisor of maintenance.

He served overseas as a master mechanic in the Motor Transport corps during World War I and has been a member of Commonwealth Edison Post of the American Legion for the past 30 years. Past chairman of the Post's safety committee, he is also a member of its Boy Scout troop committee.

Because his father was a catcher with the old White Stockings baseball team, now known as the Chicago Cubs, Mr. Reardon's interest in the game led him to play with semi-pro teams as a third baseman for many years. However, he is now content to be an enthusiastic spectator at local baseball games.

Mr. and Mrs. Reardon have a daughter, Mrs. George Angell, and three grandchildren, Earl, Violet and Doris, who live in Minneapolis.

Peanut Butter

To produce peanut butter, roasted peanuts are ground in continuous mills until the proper consistency is achieved. Ordinarily only salt is added to the butter. The fresh peanut butter is then packaged without further treatment.

COTOPAXI

Cotopaxi, located in the eastern chain of the Andes Mountains, is the highest volcanic mountain in the world. The World Book Encyclopedia relates that this beautiful volcano is 19,500 feet high and almost a perfect cone in shape. The most recent eruption was in 1911.

For Parties

Paper doilies which have a way of sliding around on dessert plates while fancy ice cream is being consumed, can be secured invisibly by a small strip of cellophane tape.

ARCTIC TERN

The Arctic tern, a sea bird which breeds on the seacoasts from New England to the northernmost islands of the Arctic Ocean, has been called the "migration champion of the world." The World Book Encyclopedia tells us that this long-distance traveler makes a flight of about 11,000 miles twice yearly.

Sociologist's survey shows influence of parents on courtship

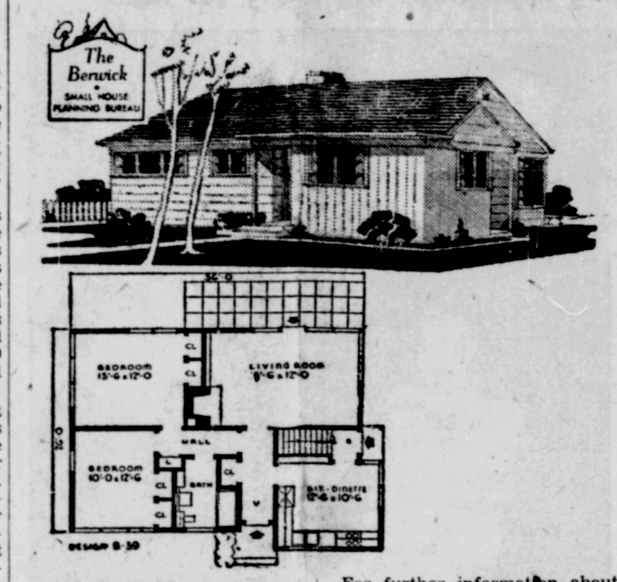

A Northwestern University sociologist has an explanation for the bewildered college girl who wonders why she can't make the man in her life think about matrimony. It may be because of his mother, says Associate Prof. Robert F. Winch.

Prof. Winch bases the findings on a survey he made of 435 male and 502 female college students from 16 middle western colleges and universities to determine the importance of the parent-child relationship to courtship. For his testing, the sociologist selected students between the ages of 19 and 25 whose parents were still living together.

Among men he observed that the son-father relationship has little or no bearing on how the boy fares in courtship, but as for mother, the story is different. Prof. Winch found a definite correlation between the bachelor who is making little progress toward matrimony and the fact that he is very close to his mother. The man who is emotionally free of his mother has a much better chance of succeeding in courtship, writes Prof. Winch.

Up to this point in his studies Prof. Winch has not found that relationship to either parent has an influence on the daughter's courtship progress. In fact, the professor's figures indicate that appearance of the girl is more important than any parent-daughter relationship. Other factors, which at this stage of the investigation seem more important in accounting for courtship variations among women, are the strength of the wish to be married, the absence of the career drive, and favorability of her early "dating" situation. Prof. Winch asserts, however, that his data contain clues which lead him to suspect that the girl's relationship to her father may ultimately prove to be correlated with her courtship progress. He also points out that the study may indicate an important difference between men and women as to the ways in which they become emotionally free of their parents.

New ideas for that home

THE BERWICK has a living room and terrace overlooking the garden. The service rooms face the street. Since all rooms open on the entrance hall, they are equally accessible to the front entrance.

There is a large, well lighted dining space in the kitchen, which is also equipped with a 6-foot storage cabinet and modern L-shaped cabinets. The side entrance to the kitchen leads directly to the full basement.

There is a recessed tub, small cabinets above the fixtures with a large mirror between, in the bathroom. Closets are ample in The Berwick. There are twin wardrobes in the bedrooms; a linen closet in the bedroom hall and a coat closet in the entrance hall.

The exterior of The Berwick is finished with siding, except the kitchen projection which has a flat roof and vertical boards in place of the siding. High windows in the bedroom increase the usable wall space.

Dimensions of The Berwick are 36 feet wide by 26 feet deep. It has an area of 992 square feet and a volume of 19,672 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BERWICK, write to the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Libertyville mother saves two-year-old

Mrs. Ray Deram saved her two-year-old child from suffocation last week when fire broke out in the family home at the rear of the Adler estate, N. Milwaukee ave., Libertyville. Mrs. Deram and child, Phyllis, were asleep when fire started near the chimney in the attic. It was caused by an over-heated chimney.

The house was filled with smoke and she could hear the crackle of burning timbers. She was unable to attire herself or child in street clothing and grabbing her daughter she covered her with a blanket and made her way to the garage below. The fire department was called and firemen extinguished the blaze before it spread to the lower floor or through the roof.

GI enrollment in colleges down, but up in high and trade schools

Veterans' enrollments in colleges and universities under the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16 (for the disabled) November 1, were about 17 percent below enrollments of a year ago.

On the other hand, enrollments in schools below the college level—mainly trade and vocational schools—November 1, were at an all-time high, approximatey 23 percent above the totals for November 1, 1948.

Veterans Administration disclosed these proportions, and pointed out that while '49 statistics represent the bulk of Fall enrollments of veterans, complete enrollment data for the current Fall term probably will not be available for another month.

In numbers, veterans in colleges and universities under both laws on November 1, 1949, totaled 789,000, compared with 953,000 a year ago.

Below - college - level enrollments this year are 839,000. A year ago, the total was 676,000.

The drop in college enrolments took place both under the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16. The rise in the number of veterans attending school below college, however, was confined to G. I. Bill enrollees alone. Public 16 enrollments in schools below the college level declined 12 percent from November 1, 1948, to November 1, 1949.

Farm hand suffers injuries when gored by bull

Donald Oldhan, 45, suffered severe injuries recently when he was gored by a young bull at the Spinney Run farm where he is employed as a farm hand near Libertyville. He is at Condell-Memorial hospital.

Oldhan had driven the bull into the barn. As he was leaving the bull chased him into the bull pen and Oldhan started for a fence. Before he could get over the fence the bull had gored him. He suffered numerous cuts, including a deep gash on a leg, and several broken ribs. Farm employees came to his rescue and he was taken to the hospital.

Christmas Seal reminders are out

Christmas Seal "reminders" are being sent out this week to Chicago and Cook County residents who may have forgotten or mislaid their 1949 Christmas Seals.

The reminders, in the form of penny postcards, note that the 43rd annual Christmas Seal Sale has received generous support from the public, but that still more dollars are needed.

"It's never too late to help," the card says.

Returns through Wednesday, December 7, midway point in the drive, amounted to $235,708.62, or nearly half of the $500,000 goal.

"In the Christmas rush every year, many people forget to send in their contributions to the tuberculosis campaign," explained Mrs. Elizabeth Imhoff, Seal Sale director of The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County. "They want to help our work and intend to do it, but sometimes it slips their mind.

"Many people tuck their Christmas Seals away somewhere in a drawer or desk, and experience has taught us that they appreciate being reminded about the Seals."

Schools participating in the "Bangle Day" programs include:

Arlington Heights—Arlington Heights Township high school, St. James Catholic, St. Peters Lutheran and Wilson schools.

Northbrook — Grove, Northbrook high and Northbrook elementary schools.

Palatine — Highland Grove school.

1948 Shrimp Pack

The 1948 canned shrimp pack in the United States totaled 558,870 cases worth $7,791,313. It was 86,537 cases larger than the 1947 pack and the largest pack since 1944. Farm hand suffers injuries when gored by bull

Donald Oldhan, 45, suffered severe injuries recently when he was gored by a young bull at the Spinney Run farm where he is employed as a farm hand near Libertyville. He is at Condell Memorial hospital.

Oldhan had driven the bull into the barn. As he was leaving the bull chased him into the bull pen and Oldhan started for a fence. Before he could get over the fence the bull had gored him. He suffered numerous cuts, including a deep gash on a leg, and several broken ribs. Farm employees came to his rescue and he was taken to the hospital.

Christmas Seal reminders are out

Christmas Seal "reminders" are being sent out this week to Chicago and Cook County residents who may have forgotten or mislaid their 1949 Christmas Seals.

The reminders, in the form of penny postcards, note that the 43rd annual Christmas Seal Sale nas received generous support from the public, but that still more dollars are needed.

"It's never too late to help," the card says.

Returns through Wednesday, December 7, midway point in the drive, amounted to $235,708-.62, or nearly half of the $500,000 goal.

"In the Christmas rush every year, many people forget to send in their contributions to the tuberculosis campaign," explained Mrs. Elizabeth Imhoff, Seal Sale director of The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County. "They want to help our work and intend to do it, but sometimes it slips their mind.

"Many people tuck their Christmas Seals away somewhere in a drawer or desk, and experience has taught us that they appreciate being reminded about the Seals."

Schools participating in the "Bangle Day" programs include: Arlington Heights—Arlington Heights Township high school, St. James Catholic, St. Peters Lutheran and Wilson schools.

Northbrook — Grove, Northbrook high and Northbrook elementary schools.

Palatine — Highland Grove school.

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: Is it true that VA will only guarantee business loans up to $4,000 or less?

Answer: VA will guarantee 50 per cent of the loan up to a maximum of $4,000 if the loan is for the purchase of business real property, and up to $2,000 for non-real estate business loans. The veteran may borrow whatever the lender will advance, but limits are placed only on the VA guaranty.

Question: A former Marine who received a disabling wound while fighting in the central Pacific writes: "What is the maximum period of training a fellow like me can receive under Public Law 16?"

Answer: Four years training is the maximum under Public Law 16. But the Veterans Administration may extend the time if there are special individual circumstances that warrant an additional period for the veteran's rehabilitation.

Question: When does the VA consider that a fellow's National Service Life Insurance has lapsed?

Answer: Insurance protection ends when a veteran fails to make a payment of premium within 31 days from the date payment was due. For example: If a premium is due on March first, the veteran has a 31-day "grace period" in which to make the payment. If he does not pay his premium within those 31 days extra, his insurance is no longer in force.

Question: Is it true that if I arrange to get a government guaranteed loan, the VA will pay part of the loan without cost to me?

Answer: Yes, the VA would pay the lender, for credit to this veteran's account, an amount equal to 4 percent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. For example: If the guaranteed portion of this veteran's loan should be $2,000, the lender would receive $80 from the VA to credit to the debt. The veteran would not have to repay this amount.

Question: I am a World War II veteran and would like to know if a medical examination is necessary before my claim, filed at discharge, can be rated?

Answer: It is not necessary if the service records give sufficient information in your claim filed at discharge, or if a claim is filed within six months after discharge. After six months medical evidence is required to substantiate your claim and, if possible, some degree of handicap due to service-connected disability. Statements offered as evidence should be notarized.

Question: I now have $5,000 National Service Life Insurance in force. I did have another $5,000 NSLI policy, but surrendered it for cash. May I apply for a new $5,000 NSLI policy to bring the total amount up to $10,000, which I understand is the maximum coverage obtainable?

Answer: No. NSLI surrendered for cash may not be replaced. By surrendering your $5,000 NSLI policy you gave up your entitlement to that amount of National Service Life Insurance.

Question: I have recently developed a skin condition and would like to receive outpatient treatment by VA. Is this possible?

Answer: Eligibility for outpatient treatment must be determined by VA. The condition must be determined to have been incurred in, or aggravated by, active military or naval service before out-patient treatment can be authorized. Make application at nearest VA office.

Question: In 1942 at 40 years of age, I took out a $5,000 NSLI policy, on which I am still paying $4.25 a month. How do I compute my dividend, and where can I obtain a claim form?

Answer: Your dividend will total $198, computed as follows: 55 cents monthly dividends on each $1,000 of insurance, multiplied by the number of months —72—during which the policy was in force up to the 1948 anniversary date, multiplied by 5, the number of thousands of insurance carried. 55x5x72 equals $198.00.

Application forms may be had from the Veterans Administration, from the Service Officer of any veteran organization, from the Veteran Employment Representative of any ISES office or from any Post Officer.

Question: I have a service-connected disability rated less than 10 per cent. Am I eligible for out-patient treatment?

Answer: Yes. Service connection, not the degree of disability, is the determining factor.

Question: While attending school and drawing subsistence allowance I held a part-time job. Now I have lost the job. Can I draw readjustment allowance or unemployment compensation until such time as I can find another part-time job?

Answer: So long as you draw subsistence allowance you are not eligible for unemployment compensation from either the Federal or State government.

Heavy Breather

One hundred tons of air is "breathed" every hour by a jet engine of the type that powers the Navy's "Banshee" fighter. At a standstill, the slim powerplant sucks air in the front end at 250 miles an hour, and spits it out the jet nozzle at the rear at 1,200 miles an hour. For a given molecule of air, the whole process takes less than half a second.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

To some people, everyone but themselves are fools.

That is because they take it upon themselves to judge the words and actions of others by their own method of acting, speaking and thinking.

If such people would only stop to think of all the billions of people in the world, no two are exactly alike, they would cease to be so quick to criticise others, and be ready to condone their own mistakes.

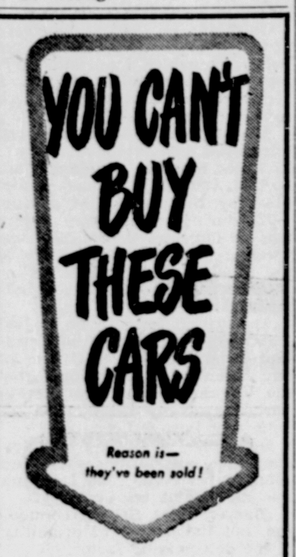

And wouldn't this be a backward world if everyone in it thought the same? Because of all the millions of ways there are to do things, we could then think of only one, or at the best a few. And of all the thoughts there are to think, only one set would be acceptable to us all. What a catastrophe it would be if those thoughts should happen to be wrong!

There might be no great musicians, no renowned painters, and no wise statesmen or inventors if such persons had their way. Our lives would be limited to and circumscribed by the talents of one person, unless this individual were capable of doing all things—a conclusion so ridiculous as to be unthinkable.

It is the variety of human nature that makes life colorful and interesting. It is also the ability of each individual to think differently that makes it possible for man to advance. It is the peculiar development of the individual that makes man adaptable. One man is big, strong, and interested in outdoor work. Another is slender, intellectual, and interested in research. Some men, because of their physical development, can stand cold weather, while others are at a disadvantage in a cold climate. There is no statement more true than the old one: "It takes all kinds of people to make a world."

I have heard self righteous persons talk about other people, and I have been astounded at the narrowness of their minds. Some "religious" people, fancying that they are "saved," seem to think that their religion gives them the right to choose the sheep from the goats even before Judgment Day. God knows the circumstances which molds an individual's life. He alone can judge the sinner's sincerity and limitations perfectly, and without prejudice. Narrowness and smug self-righteousness is something that I have never been able to reconcile with christianity.

Yes, to some narrow, mistaken individuals, everyone but themselves are fools; but the truth is, most all of us are sometimes wise, and sometimes foolish, depending on our personal reactions to the various circumstances of life. It behooves all of us to be tolerant of one another.

We just list them—to show you the kind of bargain-beauties you'll find at the BUICK used-car lot—and to show you why you don't want to lose any time hot-footing it down to pick your own next car, before it goes out like those above!

At Knox

Thomas Eugene Kurtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kurtz, 909 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, was among the ten Knox college seniors who were recently notified of their acceptance for recognition in the 1950 Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Acceptance in Who's Who is one of the highest honors a college student can attain. This reference volume is published each year to honor outstanding college and university students, and to furnish information on the groups representing America's leading higher educational institutions.

The Knox students receiving the honor were originally selected by a student-faculty committee on the basis of scholarship, leadership, participation in College activities, and promise of future usefulness. The names were then recommended to the national Who's Who organization, who considered and later accepted them.

Tom has been a Prize Scholar throughout his three years at Knox. He has been the recipient of several prizes and scholarships from the College. Last year, when only a junior, he was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. He is a member of the Knox track team, and a senior student.

A series of formal holiday balls preceded the vacation period, as well as numerous informal residence hall and club parties. The formal Christmas dinner Tuesday night, December 13, was followed by the traditional Christmas program presented by the student concert chorus.

Jubilee stock show breaks many records

The Golden Jubilee edition of the International Live Stock Exposition closed Saturday in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards after setting new marks in quality, attracting a record-smashing attendance, and establishing peak prices in spectacular show auctions.

The eight-day attendance exceeded slightly last year's 450,000 record gate.

Stockmen and breeders who thronged the show rings said they had never seen such an array of quality in the large classes for 31 breeds of livestock. The Aberdeen-Angus breeding cattle contest was the largest ever seen at any show in the history of that breed.

Show auctions, both for fat and breeding stock, brought owners nearly two million dollars. A record average of $44.00 per cwt. was paid for 66 carloads of cattle. It was four dollars higher than last year's average and brought a total of half a million dollars.

Steers raised by boys and girls for the Junior Livestock Feeding Contest were auctioned at an average of $45.67 per cwt., another record.

Ventilated Pretzels

Industrial progress has come to the rescue of pretzel-benders. Tiny three-inch fans blow air on dough after it has been formed into a pretzel shape. This "case hardens" the dough, permitting it to be handled more easily without danger of distorting the traditional pretzel shape.

Campus Capers

He is now one of 2,060 students enrolled at Valparaiso this fall.

At Southern California

Names of former high school graduates of this area who are now attending the University of Southern California have just been released by the S. C. registrar. They include: Frances Oefelein, Arlington Heights, who is a senior.

Also announced by the University were enrollment figures for this semester in the fourteen schools of SC showing 15,866 daytime Trojan students. Of the total 3556 are doing graduate work.

At Stephens

Miss Ruth Louise Greener, of Arlington Heights, a student of Stephens College, will spend the Christmas holidays at her home. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ariel J. Greener, 400 East Park st., Arlington Heights.

Tells story of big railroad wreck in Palatine sixty-two years ago

The publication of the picture of the Comfort elevator at Palatine in last week's issue has brought to this office the story of the railroad wreck that occurred a few feet from that elevator on April 7, 1887 which took the lives of two Palatine and three Arlington Heights residents — all spectators watching a wrecking crew untangle two engines and a number of freight cars.

Wm. Schoepke, 28 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, was a boy of nine years when the wreck occurred. His story follows:

"On Palm Sunday, April 7, 1887, I was awakened by my mother who said that she had just come from a big wreck. It did not take me long to slip on my jeans and hurry to the Brockway street railroad crossing.

"TWO RAILROAD engines had met head-on on the single track. Efforts of trainmen using sledge hammers to separate them were unavailing until the arrival of the wrecking crew.

The northbound engine was taking water from the large tank. The engineer of the southbound train had dozed and did not see the other train until too late to stop.

"Cleaning up the mess was a big job and after I had gone home to dinner I returned with my father to watch the work.

"THE COLLISION had occurred at the foot of the water tank and trainmen had repeatedly warned spectators to keep away from the tank. As soon as one group left the dangerous spot, another group took its place.

"Suddenly one of the bands of the tank snapped and thousands of gallons of water and big timbers engulfed those who were standing beneath the tank.

"My father insisted that I stay with him and we were behind the big elevator, fifty feet from the tank when it gave way.

"As the mountain of water came our way, my dad grabbed me and we jumped to the top of a pile of lumber. As the noise died down frantic efforts were made to get the injured and dead out from the wreckage. The first body found by Adolph Garms was that of his son, William."

Five persons were killed instantly. Others were injured. Those who gave their lives because they wanted an advantageous point to watch the wrecking crew were:

Wm. Garms, 14 yrs., Palatine, who had been confirmed that day.

Edward Wenegar, 13, Palatine, brother of the late Ben Wenegar.

Fred Boeger, a bachelor, 30, Arlington Heights, uncle of John Boeger.

William and George Meyer, Palatine road, brothers of the late Minnie and Caroline Meyer whose home was formerly on the site of the present Reese Ace hardware store.

The three had made the trip to Palatine together.

MR. SCHOEPKE says that he was only nine years old at the time but is certain one or two other persons were so seriously injured that they later died.

George K. Volz, Arlington Heights, whose father was the undertaker, recalls that he and a friend walked to Palatine to view the wreck. Those were the days before the science of embalming, and the mangled bodies were gathered in blankets and caskets were not opened at funeral services.

A Kickapoo Indian troup was in Palatine at the time. The Indian doctor in that troup, says Volz, took a leading part in caring for the dead and injured.

FORTY-THREE YEARS later, a wreck occurred at Arlington Heights which was as spectacular as the other. In the meantime the Northwestern railroad had double tracked its right-of-way between Chicago and St. Paul and three tracks between Chicago and Barrington.

Arlington Heights was installing the big sewer, which required huge cement tiles. The Hume Pipe Co. erected a building in the wildrness south of Stonegate for the manufacture of those tiles. A permit was secured from the Northwestern to establish a crossing over which the tiles could be taken. It was at that crossing where Arlington Heights worst railroad wreck occurred. The story from the files of the Herald folllow:

GREAT EXCITEMENT prevailed in Arlington Heights and nearby towns along the Northwestern over the head-on collision about 8:45 p. m. Tuesday, March 18, 1930, of the Chicago bound Minnesota-Chicago mail and passenger train No. 215 and the Barrington local which left Chicago at 8:02. This occurred just east of the crossing at Stonegate, used in the construction of Arlington Heights' new sewer system.

A caterpillar tractor was pulling giant sections of concrete sewer pipe mounted on a stoneboat and pulled by a cable across the track, when the clevis, by which the cable was attached to the stoneboat broke, leaving the load right in the path of the oncoming flyer.

Workmen started to roll the tile toward the ditch while others ran with lanterns to flag the train. The big stoneboat, 7x14 feet, they could not move. The engineer, Harry McCloskey, saw the tile in the light of the engine, and applied the air brakes, but it was only 500 feet or so from the tile, the flyer struck it at about 45 miles an hour.

McCloskey and fireman, Gustave Ring, jumped into the ditch just before the crash came and escaped very serious injury. The engine derailed rolled over across the other track and was imbedded three feet in the gravel.

The first six coaches were twisted and turned in behind, tearing up the earth and taking the rails and ties with them.

THE ENGINEER and fireman who had jumped made a desperate attempt to flag the suburban train coming from Chicago. They ran as fast as they could, one waving a lantern which he threw into the cab of the engine which whizzed by. The train went headlong into the other wreck causing the explosion of the engine of the flyer, sparks flying as told by an eyewitness, a hundred feet in the air. The two engines and tenders were turned into a shapeless mass of broken scrap iron. The firemen of the local, Sidney Munson of Chicago, jumped for the ditch, and escaped with minor injuries; the crushed and scalded body of the engineer, Carl Kutzner, was not found until about 9 o'clock the next morning, pinned under the tender.

(Note: "Way-Back-When" will be glad to publish other stories of olden days. Bring them to the publication office or mail to the "Way-Back-When" editor).

Sixty years ago the Kickapoo Indian troup gave free shows in a community a week at a time, selling Kickapoo Indian medicine between the acts. Those were the days before the AMA became so powerful and Kickapoo juice was on the medicine shelves of nearly every family.

Harry Schoppe tells story of narrow escape kept secret 62 years

Here is a story that the three Schoppe boys Louis, Henry and Harry kept secret 62 years. Harry, the last of the three, told it this week when he learned that the Way-Back-When column was covering the railroad accident of 1887.

"The three of us joined the big crowd to watch the removal of the railroad wreck. We were standing beneath the huge water tank. Our older brother, Louis, told Henry and I to stay where we were while he with other older boys climbed on top of a wrecked railroad car.

"Henry and I did not see why we could not do anything our brother was doing. We had only gone a few feet when the tank broke and a four-foot wave of water carried us 200 to 300 feet westward. It was a narrow escape.

"We were drenched. We went to the general store of Mr. Robertson and secured dry clothes. On our way home we hid our wet clothing in a hedge. Our mother learned of our narrow escape. We kept our experience from our father fearing he would never let us go to another wreck."

● HE STILL WINS 'EM

Chase Dean, a chip off the old block of the Dean harness horse family, is still upholding the record of that famous harness horse family started many long years ago by Chase's father, Charles Dean.

We had a letter from Chase the other day. He is a resident of Freehold, New Jersey, and does all his racing at the Roosevelt raceway on Long Island, where he starts racing in the spring and winds up in the fall. Chase sent clippings of some of the race results and they showed that Chase was still winning his share of races showing that he hasn't lost any of that magic touch taught him by his father at the Old Dean track in Palatine.

Chase seemed to have three horses, Chief Abbedale, Step, and Miss Brooke Hawk which were consistent winners. And as usual Chase seemed to get a good price against his horses no matter how many races they had seen, which seems to be sort of a Dean habit.

Chase said he had hoped to get back home for a visit this fall, but that pressure of business kept him from taking a vacation. Chase is one of the "old timers" in the harness horse game, and yet it doesn't seem so long since we can remember him as a youngster driver just breaking in back here in Illinois, under the watchful eye of his dad. But the years roll on and those youngsters of the old days are the "old-timers" now, but they still have their eye on the ball and like in Chase's case they still keep bringing them home in front.

● THEY REMEMBER

All of this safety education which has been given the youngsters lately isn't falling on deaf ears—they really remember.

The other day a man and a couple of little tots came to a down-town crossing. The man started to cross the street on a short cut, diagonally. One of the youngsters held back and pointed to the crossing lines on the pavement. The man and the other youngster pulled back to the corner and all three crossed the corner in the proper manner.

The one youngster, small as he was, remembered what he'd been told and showed his companions the right way to do things.

● ALARM CLOCK

Highway Commissioner, Ray Holtzee, of Palatine township, doesn't need to worry about his alarm clock going on the blink, as he has another sort of waker upper than will get him on the way just the same.

Ray had a crippled rooster in his flock, so he took him out of the flock and turned him loose in the back yard. Soon that rooster became a regular pet with the run of the place. He followed Ray around like a dog and if Ray doesn't put in an appearance at the same time every morning, that rooster comes up to the back door and starts demanding to know why. Ray says there is no rest after that crowing starts. The bird has become so independent that when the rest of the chickens are turned out in the yard he won't pay any attention to them, but continues to go his own way as befits the king of the premises.

● THOSE BOWLERS

Judging from some of the comments that some of those major league bowlers have been making about their scores lately, the boys, by their own admission, haven't been doing so well. And as usual when the majors go bad some of the rest of the boys begin to question where they grabbed on to that name major league.

One thing that is bothering Jerry Dean these days is why he does so badly on Monday nights when the majors roll, and then can come right back later in the week and roll some respectable series. "Just one of those things," Jerry and "those things" seem to have the Indian sign on a lot of these majors year after year.

● OVER THE HILL

A week from now and we'll be having our shortest days. As some of the old timers say we'll be "over the hill" then, or at least right on top of the hill and ready to head down the long, long trail toward spring. As one old timer put it, "When we get past the shortest day, it always seems that we are on our way to better things."

When reminded of the old saying that "when the days begin to lengthen, the cold begins to strengthen," he came back with, "Yes, and don't forget the other old one that 'when the days begin to lengthen, the sun begins to strengthen,' too."

Well both of those old sayings are true, the cold and the sun will both strengthen with the lengthening of the days, but at least the shortest days will be behind us and there will be something to look forward to down the long, long trail ahead.

● NOT SO LONG

As Henry Carlson says, "it won't be long now until we'll be out on those bleachers in the evenings watching those softball games." We told him, "Let 'em come—we'll take them, mosquitoes and all, in preference to the cold weather." And as we remember, there really were some mosquitos out there on some of those evenings last summer. And we recall that Henry had quite a time with them being able to last only for three or four innings on some of those evenings, but it was all a lot of fun anyway and when Henry finally got that bottle of mosquito dope, things didn't seem so bad—anyway he'd stay an inning or two longer.

● SKATING RINK

With the advent of cold weather the youngsters' minds are turning to skating; the park rink has been flooded, and with continued cold weather, evening skating under the park lights is liable to become a popular recreation for the youngsters and many folks who aren't in the youngster class any more.

● THE RIVER CALLS

With snow and cold weather acting as if it really were going to mean business last Wednesday, the call of the Indian river with its sparkling waters, its jumping fish and its invitation to come and toast your shins in the sun got to be just too much for Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. DePue, who made up their minds in a hurry to head for their winter home on the Indian river, in Florida. Before the afternoon was hardly started they were on their way and hitting the trail at a good clip in an effort to get out of the snow belt before nightfall.

Bill didn't say just how long he was going to be gone, telling his office that he could get back in a hurry if he had to, and that meantime he expected to do a lot of work around his orange and grapefruit grove, do a little fishing and get out on that beautiful Indian river, and toast his shins in the warm Florida sun.

● LIKES THE SUNSHINE

While former mayor Bill DePue of Palatine is toasting his shins in the Florida sunshine another former mayor of "the real home town" is doing likewise out in the sunshine on the Pacific coast. Word from Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Godknecht out in California is to the effect that they are comfortably established in their new home and that they miss all the folks back here, but not the climate.

The climate there they say is wonderful, fine warm sunshine and balmy breezes, with flowers blooming in profusion, a vast contrast to the present climate back here in their old home town.

So, while one of our former mayors is basking in Florida, another one is doing likewise in California. Beats all how these fellows get around the world, doesn't it? And as word comes from them in their sunny climes it makes a lot of the folks back home wish that they were there also.

● BUSY MAN

We ran into Tony Dolatowski, boss of the Palatine Equipment co. the other day—hadn't seen him for weeks. We knew he'd been busy for several months transplanting all of those thousands of trees up in the Barrington country and he's still at it, and expects it will take a lot more time next spring.

We heard a nice story about Tony's outfit the other day. A friend of ours at Arlington Heights wanted to build a fence last summer and he and his son started to try to dig the post holes with a hand post hole digger. The ground was dry and hard and they couldn't make a dent in it, say nothing of bore a post hole. "There must be some easier way than this," said the perspiring son, "with all the new fangled modern machinery and equipment, there must be some way to dig a post hole." So the son started on a hunt through the phone book to try to locate some outfit that had the machinery to dig a post hole. He landed on the name of the Palatine Equipment Co. and gave them the job. They showed up one morning with their digger, but the ground was so hard it wouldn't work. They pulled out, but that afternoon they were back. I think the boss was with them said our friend, and he said, "We've sharpened this thing up and now let's see if it won't work." Sure enough, whiz went the machine and the holes were soon dug.

"A fine job, a nice outfit and very reasonable in their charges, who runs that outfit, anyway?" said our friend, and we told him none other than our good friend Tony Dolatowski, whose motto is "Service, with no job too big and none too small to be given careful and efficient attention."

● HOME SHOPPING

With Palatine in the midst of the greatest Christmas spirit in many years the people of this community don't have to go out of town to do their Christmas shopping.

Local stores and shops are loaded with a fine selection of Christmas goods and the merchants are ready and anxious to serve you. Some of the business places have gone to a lot of work and expense to decorate their places and make things as attractive as possible for the Christmas shoppers.

Don't go out of town to shop until you have seen what your local merchants have to offer. You'd be surprised at the wide variety of things you can find right at home and at prices that are right.

Christmas shopping can be done right here at home, a lot faster and a lot easier than in a big city. Just look around and see what the home boys have to offer the home folks.

BIG PAPER

Please be advised that I am against those big 42 page editions of the Arlington Heights Herald as per a couple of weeks ago. Our mailman, Ralph Stippick, bent our mail box and I think something ought to be done about it.

POLIO VICTIMS

This is an appeal to boys and girls in this area who would like to make Christmas happier for two little polio victims, who are my niece and nephew.

David, 5, and Barbara Jean, 10, Lentz are both hospitalized with polio at Little Rock, Arkansas, and they are asking for greeting cards to help cheer them through the Christmas season. Both were taken ill September 1. Barbara still spends several hours a day in an iron lung. David is now learning to walk again.

Their parents live over 100 miles away from the Little Rock hospitals and can only see them every other week, that's why cards would help so much at Christmas time.

Cards to Barbara should be addressed: Barbara Jean Lentz, Polio Ward, University of Medicine, 709 12th st., Little Rock, Arkansas. Cards to David should be addressed: David Lentz, Arkansas Children's Home and Hospital, 804 Wolf st., Little Rock, Arkansas.

MY GIFT

Oh! To have been Mary on that night long ago,
As she knelt by her Master with spikenard rare;
Oh! To have anointed Him, and heard Him say
"She hath done what she could this memorable day."
Oh! To have been Martha on Bethany's road
When she saith to Him, "Yea,
Thou art Christ my Lord."
Oh! To have served Him in that humble abode
And hastened to lighten His wearisome load.
Oh! To have laid one palm on
His path,
Or sung His praise; but I have naught to give
Save a penitent tear and a troubled heart:
Take them, dear Lord, and never depart.

THINK OF HOME

We still enjoy the Mt. Prospect Herald, but note many changes since we left two years ago. Getting our first rain and it is appreciated. Our house number has been changed to 4167 N. Center, Baldwin Park, California. Greetings to all our neighbors in Prospect Heights.

In the future

Housewives can save elbow grease with a push-button wax-spraying dispenser which puts a luster on a houseful of furniture in a few minutes' time. You simply spray it on and wipe it off; no rubbing, no polishing . . . Dreaming of a white Christmas? Even without the weather man you can insure at least a semblance of one with the "Frosty Fir" Xmas tree, a snow white fire-resistant product. No artificial tree, it's real fir, trimmed with white plastic and rayon fibers. Chemically treated, it also retards wilting and needle-dropping . . . . Charge it. That's all that's necessary with a new hearing-aid battery. It's said to be the first rechargeable unit ever made that's small enough for such aids . . . A newly developed cupboard door comes complete with a built-in interior ventilating arrangement designed to prevent warping. The ventilation keeps the door's inside sections dry, maintains a constant temperature for all parts.

HOBBIES--yours and mine

by BETTY AINSLIE

Discovered a definite owner of a very green thumb this week in Mrs. George L. Hughes of S. State rd., Arlington Heights. She has her living room literally a-bloom with African violets.

She has pink, white and all shades of the more popular blue variety all flourishing on a large set of shelves built into the South and East windows of her living room.

"I guess I like them the best of the plants because they bloom a lot and then the green leaves are always pretty too," declared motherly smiling Mrs. Hughes.

"I'VE ALWAYS grown plants, but when my husband was forced to quit his job because of arthritis I started raising African violets as a business as well as a hobby."

Mrs. Hughes starts the leaves in a large aquarium—rather in several aquariums and giant sized glass jars. She transplants them later into pots and at the moment has about 300 plants and about 35 varieties.

I'd never realized there were so many types of African violets but Mrs. Hughes has some with leaves that stand up straight around the blossoms, plants with fancy scalloped leaves and two special beauties called Double Regal Wine and Double Regal Duchess. These last two are double blossom plants and the blooms far outlast their more plain brothers.

Mrs. Hughes buys or trades with friends original plants and then snips off leaves like mad to start her own. At the moment she is experimenting with starting plants from seeds.

"I hope I sell quite a few this Christmas," Mrs. Hughes laughed, "or we're going to be forced out of the living room because of the plants."

IF YOU GO there and spot a plant you'd like to own, if Mrs. Hughes doesn't have one of that variety fully started she'll take your order and call you when your plant is ready.

She started this hobby about three years ago, and knows all the varieties by name and carefully cherishes each plant. A bloom purchased from her is a husky and healthy specimen.

Thinking of my rather puny violet at home I questioned Mrs. Hughes about the care of African violets. In the first place always water from the bottom—set the pot in water for a spell—but don't ever leave the plant in water for days at a time. Use warm water. Mrs. Hughes catches rain water which she uses as chemically softened water she said is hard on house plants.

The dirt should always be kept moist, and they bloom and thrive in a mixture of sand and peat-moss and in a south or east window.

It all sounded very simple and I discovered the white spots on leaves are caused by water touching them—my plant has white spots. Well anyway with about 300 healthy, blooming beauties staring me in the face I'm going to dig around in the dirt of my vanishing violet, and catch rain water in a sauce pan and maybe I'll bring out the best in my unhealthy green thumb.

Weekly recipe

I don't need to remind you that the big day is "just around the corner." For this special occasion, every one wants to be complimented on their culinary skill. The one sure way is to serve that traditional old favorite—Plum Pudding. Make it tday, wrap in heavy wax paper or aluminum foil and store until Christmas. It's especially delicious when well steamed and topped with hard sauce before serving.

Plum Pudding

4 eggs
½ cup cream
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup raisins
1 cup currants
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup suet, ground
1 cup all purpose flour
1 tsp. duble acting baking pwd.
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
¾ tsp. cloves
½ tsp. salt
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup molasses

Method: Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices together. Mix suet, bread crumbs, fruits and nuts and add to flour mixture. Beat eggs, add sugar, molasses and cream. Combine all together and add vanilla. Mix well. Steam fr 3 hours. Serve with or without hard sauce.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

A reader of "Just Around the Corner" writes in part: "You have asked for contributions for your column from time to time. With Christmas almost upon us, I thought perhaps you might like to enclose in your always interesting letter to "Jane" the following "Christmas House Blessing."

Indeed, I am always pleased to receive letters from any readers and appreciate their interest very much. Thank you, and come again!

Christmas House Blessing

Bless the four corners of this house
And the lintel bless;
And bless the heart and bless
the board,
And bless each place of rest;
Bless the door that opens wide
To stranger as to kin;
And bless each crystal window pane
That lets the starlight in;
Bless the rooftree overhead,
And every sturdy wall.
The peace of God—the peace of men—
The peace of love—on all.

Arthur Gutterman

Lady B. (some time ago) sent me some "quotes for living" that are especially good; also a poem for the New Year. This is a good time to enclose these, too.

"Always remain teachable."

"Some books are to be tasted, some swallowed, and some are to be chewed and digested."

(Bacon)

"One never gets out of the valley until one looks up at the sky."

"Joy is the grace we say to God."

"Service is the rent we pay for the space we occupy."

"Each disappointment points to a sign post for another way and often that way is a better one."

"Keep your intellectual spade clean and siny with use and your acres free from weeds."

"Yesterday is but a dream;
Tomorrow is but a vision; but Today, well lived, is a realization of yesterday's dream and tomorrow's vision."

"God without man can do nothing.
Man without God will make a wreck of life, but God and man together can accomplish anything and everything."

"A New Year"
by Mary C. Davies

Here's a clean year,
A white year,
Reach your hand and take it.
You are
The builder
And no one else can make it.
See what it is
That waits here
Whole and new;
It's not a year only,
But a world for you!"

Have you finished your Chirstmas shopping? In case you haven't and are still searching for something unusual, drive over to the Country Studio and see those interesting masks Inez Tyler recently received from Guatamala. They are hand carved and used by the natives during their ceremonial dances. Any one of them would make charming wall hangings for living-room or study. Country Studio is on Medinah Road, at Medinah, Ill.

I hope to have some exciting news for you in next week's letter!

With love, Mary.

Meat Leftovers

A good way to use those last precious bits of meat leftovers is to combine them with macaroni in a smooth cream sauce or canned mushroom soup. Top the casserole dish with margarined bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it customary for a woman to shake hands when she is being introduced to another woman?

A. This is optional, but she can show more sincere pleasure over the introduction if she does offer her hand. And under no circumstances must she show hesitation if the other woman offers her hand first.

Q. If no individual butter knife is provided at the dinner table, should the meat knife be used for this purpose?

A. For spreading butter on bread, yes. But when one is putting butter on potatoes or vegetables, then the fork should be used.

Q. When a man and a woman are to be married, and both are living in a distant city, should the announcements be sent from that city or from the home of the bride?

A. Wedding announcements should be sent in the name and from the home of the bride's nearest relatives.

Q. When a bride is writing a note of thanks for a gift to a close friend of hers, should her husband also sign the note?

A. It isn't necessary for her husband to sign it, but she should take care to mention his name in her letter, as, "Charles and I both thank you for your thoughtfulness, etc."

Q. Should individual dishes be provided for the various vegetables when giving a dinner at home?

A. No; this is done only in restaurants.

Q. If a man is sitting down in some public place and a strange woman addresses a remark or question to him, is it necessary for him to rise?

A. Yes, he should rise, unless the woman is also seated.

Q. When a young man meets a girl on the street and stops to talk, shouldn't he remove his hat and hold it in his hand as long as he talks?

A. It isn't necessary for him to hold his hat longer than a minute, and not at all if the weather is disagreeable. He should, of course, lift it when meeting the girl, and again when leaving. It would be presumptuous for a girl to expect a man to stand bareheaded in a snow storm or the rain.

Q. What should be served by the hostess at an informal tea?

A. Tea, sandwiches, and cakes are served at an informal tea. Nothing should be served that is difficult to manage with the fingers.

Q. Should a man hold a girl's arm when walking along the street?

A. This should not be necessary, unless of course he expects her to break away from him and run.

Q. Should the wedding gift be mailed to the bride, even if you know only the bridegroom and have never met her?

A. Yes, always. The wedding presents are always considered the personal property of the bride.

Univ. of Ill. Service provides 2,500 films for schools, churches

More than 2,500 titles of films for loan to schools and organizations in Illinois are listed in the new catalog of the University of Illinois Visual Aids Service, released by the U. of I. Press.

Titles range from aerodynamics to agriculture, from arts and crafts to astronomy, from history to vocational guidance, and from social studies to nature study. They even include vaccination, volcanoes, vitamins, and — yes, visual education.

All of the films are 16 millimeters in size, many are in color, and most are accompanied by sound records.

Use of the films is increasing at the rae of 10 percent annually, according to Lewis V. Peterson, director of the service which is a unit of the Division of University Extension. He attributes much of this increase to the trend toward school consolidation, with the larger school units being able to provide better teaching services.

Any school—public, private, or parochial—within Illinois is eligible to obtain films from the University. Rental fees cover cost of handling and distribution. The films are available also to such organizations as churches, clubs, unions, business firms, and, with certain restrictions, to individuals.

Barrington student's gun wounds healing

Don Miller, Barrington student at Drake university at Des Moines, Ia., is recuperating at Veterans hospital, Des Moines, from serious injuries sustained in a hunting accident.

His left hand was badly mangled while on a hunting trip Nov. 18, when apparently the shell exploded and the gun inflicted severe burns and abrasions to his hand. It has been necessary to graft skin over the wounds, and although the healing is progressing satisfactorily he will be hospitalized a few weeks longer, the family reports.

The student, who is a Navy veteran, and his wife, the former Marion Sass, and their baby daughter, Christine, resides near the campus. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claire Miller of West Station st., visited the patient and his family over the Thanksgiving week-end.

Benjamin installs $15,000 sewer tank

According to information learned from Mr. Flentie, maintenance engineer of the Benjamin Electric Mfg. Co., that concern is now installing a large tank for the neutralization and filtering of all its industrial waste materials.

Digging on this project has been completed and the installation will be completed by Spring, at which time it will be placed in operation.

This tank will effectively purify all wastes from Benjamin before they are allowed to run into Weller Ditch.

Race problem caricatured in new Caldwell novel

Place Called Estherville is a chip off the old Erskine Caldwell formula. It is a continual stream of lechery, degredation and cruelty.

The heroes are two unfortunates, mulatto brother and sister who come from the country to the bad bad village of Estherville to find work and take care of Aunt Hazel. They are attractive, good, and entirely unable to cope with the negro-baiting whites who surround and molest them. Out of all the people in Estherville that they meet and work for, there is only one man good enough to treat them squarely, and alas, we don't meet him until the last chapter just before his death.

These two, Kathyanne and Ganus, grovel before whites and heroically strive to avoid entaglements. Yet disastrously, in episode after episode which would do justice to a soap opera (if radio had no censorship) they sink lower and lower until their clothes are tattered, their food is gone, and no one will hire them. They dare not complain or report to authorities (who are also corrupt) for fear of further evil. And there is even worse to come.

One wishes they would get wise and take Aunt Hazel back with them to the country.

Caldwell's lesson in race prejudice certainly has its merits, but it's too much of a caricature to be convincing. However he is a dynamic writer, telling a powerful and a never dull story. Caldwell fans will eat this one up as others before it, but there will be those, like me, who feel it is an overdose. I closed the book with a nasty taste in my mouth.

Grapefruit Production

Florida is the leading state in the production of grapefruit, followed closely by Texas, with Arizona and California producing the remainder of the commercial crop. Florida produces about 50 per cent of the total crop, Texas 35 to 40 per cent, the desert about 9 per cent and the California summer grapefruit area the remainder.

Second 6 months critical period for heifers

A University of Illinois dairyman said he believes that more dairy heifers are permanently stunted between six and 12 months of age than during any other period.

E. E. Ormiston says the second six months of a heifer's life is her most critical period. There are two reasons for this. First, she's likely to be underfed. You took away the milk or milk substitutes from her ration at about six months of age, and her digestive system can't handle much roughage until 11 or 12 months of age. So she needs a good grain mixture. Second, after six months of age, most heifers are housed with older animals and the young ones are often forced away from the feed bunk.

ORMISTON recommends feeding all heifers under one year a good grain mixture containing 12 to 14 per cent protein, along with plenty of good quality legume hay. The grain mixture can be the same as you feed to milking cows. About two or three pounds a day is enough for heifers.

The dairyman also strongly advises separating heifers under a year from the older ones, especially if you have more than a few together or if they're crowded.

Cold weather may affect milk production

Your dairy cows may never go on strike, but they'll give less milk if you neglect them during the winter months ahead.

Dr. M. E. Mansfield, University of Illinois veterinarian, gave several good dairy management tips to help your cows stay in top production no matter how bad the weather gets. The suggestions are:

Take good care of the cow's udder. If the udder becomes swollen and inflamed, or if a teat becomes badly injured, call your veterinarian. Prompt treatment often helps to prevent mastitis.

Protect her against barnyard filth by keeeping the lots clean and well drained.

Let her exercise, but don't make her stand outside for hours in bad weather or freezing temperatures.

Give her a balanced ration with enough good quality legume hay.

Provide clean bedding in light, well-ventilated quarters.

Finally, check her for lice, and treat her if necessary. Lice spread rapidly during the cold weather, often causing unthriftiness.

Test Frozen Beef

Tests at the Pennsylvania state college agricultural experiment station show that ground beef can be palatable after storage for a year in a freezer locker, provided the temperature and wrapping are right. Best results were obtained at 20 degrees below zero and with aluminum foil wrapping.

Kris Kringle's Cookies

"How to Make Christmas Come Sooner" could be the real title of this story! For what child does not love the anticipation of Christmas almost as much as the day itself?

Let's set the youngsters up in the cookie-making business by having mother first make up two batches of cookie dough—one for regular sugar cookies and the other for chocolate cookies. Then everyone joins in cutting with a couple of fancy-shaped cutters. Various decorations are added before baking: colored sugar crystals, red cinnamon candies, nuts, currants and citron. When the cookies come out of the oven, the fun really begins with fancy wrappings — and a stolen bite or two!

Old-Fashioned Sugar Cookies

- 2¾ cups sifted cake flour
- 2 tsps. calumet baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter or shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, adding baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add vanilla. Add flour, a small amount at a time, mixing well after each addition. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with floured cutter. Place on ungreased baking sheet; bake in hot oven (400° F.) 10 to 12 minutes.

Chocolate Cookies

- 2¼ cups sifted cake flour
- 1½ tsps. calumet baking powder
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ cup butter or shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, salt and cinnamon, and sift together three times. Cream shortening and sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs, chocolate, and beat well. Add flour, a small amount at a time, mixing well after each addition. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with floured cutter. Place on ungreased baking sheet; bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 9 minutes.

TO COLOR SUGAR, dissolve a bit of coloring in a teaspoon of water, sprinkle over ¼ cup granulated sugar, mix well to distribute coloring evenly, and spread sugar out on unglazed paper until dry. This gives attractive large crystals of colored sugar for decorating.

LAW on the FARM

Public stockyards

Federal law defines a stockyard as "..... any place, establishment, or facility commonly known as stockyards, conducted or operated for compensation or profit as a public market, consisting of pens or other enclosures, and their appurtenances, in which live cattle, sheep, swine, horses, mules, or goats are received held, or kept for sale or shipment in commerce." Establishments of this kind are subject to Federal control (the Packers and Stockyard Act) if "..... the area normally available for handling likestock, exclusive of runs, alleys, or passageways, is not less than 20,000 square feet."

Certain Illinois animal disease acts requiring a certificate of health for animals shipped into Illinois from out of state, or shipped from a public stockyard, do not apply when the animals are shipped through the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, the National Stock Yards, East St. Louis, the Union Stock Yards, Peoria, or any other stockyard falling within the Federal definition.

The state legislature may make and enforce laws not inconsistent with Federal law and rules applying to Illinois public stockyards under Federal control, and may exercise complete authority over other stockyards, providing such authority is reasonable and necessary.

The Community Sales Act is an example of state control over facilities not under Federal law: Another example is a law requiring the maintenance of separate pens or "isolation" units for diseased animals received by stockyards.

By law, a stockyards company is really a service agency to buyers, sellers, commission men, packers and others who make use of its facilities to dispose of livestock or acquire livestock.

Major changes needed in acreages of corn and soybeans

Results reported by five University of Illinois agronomists show that some Illinois counties have 70 to 75 per cent of the cropland in corn and soybeans, and only 5 to 10 per cent in grasses and legumes.

This word comes from W. L. Burlison, F. C. Bauer, C. M. Linsley, J. C. Hackleman, and W. O. Scott.

They add that agronomy experiments over the past 50 years show without a doubt that Illinois farmers should keep at least 25 per cent of their land in legume-grass mixtures all the time.

This means we should take 3,700,000 acres out of corn and soybeans and put that land into grasses and legumes. If this were done, total legume-grass acreage would be 8,600,000 acres.

The main reason why this shift is needed is to build up soil fertility and to cut down erosion.

Farmers to get less money for milk in 1950

Dairy farmers can expect somewhat less money for their milk in 1950, J. P. Mason, secretary of the Illinois Milk Producers Association, reported at the Producers annual meeting in the Hotel Sherman.

Mason said that domestic demand for bottled milk and dairy products probably will not be as strong in 1950 as this year and that export demand will be less. The high inventory of dairy products accumulated under the government price support program can only have a depressing effect on the market, he said.

There will be a tendency for consumer prices to be down in 1950, he added.

PRODUCERS supplying fluid milk markets will not do as well in 1950 because of anticipated higher production without a similar increase in bottled milk needs. An increasing number of producers, he said, are expected to be drawn to the major fluid milk markets. The reason for this shift is that premiums paid for bottled milk attract more farmers in times of declining prices for other dairy products.

Total milk production in the United States should be as great or greater in 1950 than in 1949, Mason said. Cow numbers will increase some. Available feed supplies per animal unit will be above this year's level.

On the bright side for producers, Mason pointed out that cow numbers will still be the lowest in the history of the country in relation to population. Support price programs will prevent milk prices from skidding too far. Under the new farm program, milk prices are to be supported at levels very close to prices paid farmers in 1949.

Sugar beet buying power continues at high level

Saginaw — Sugar beet prices paid in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois in 1949 are estimated to be 220% of the 1935-39 level, says the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar Association. This is 12% better than the United States average on all crops, 13% better than food grains, 18% better than truck crops, 56% better than feed grains and hay, and 80% better than fruits, the Association declares.

In terms of how much the Midwestern sugar beet farmer can buy now compared to 1935-39, the Association states that sugar beet revenues will purchase 24% more of all farm machinery, 28% more of all items of farm production equipment and supplies, 34% more tractors, 40% more fertilizer, 65% more gasoline, and 87% more tires.

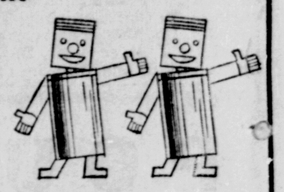

Sugar beet prices promise to hold at firm levels, says the Association. Federal legislation has the effect of keying them to the cost-of-living index, the Association points out, which gives sugar beet growers a break on meeting production costs, while providing sugar to consumers at fair and reasonable levels.

Icebergs

Up in the heart of the Arctic Ocean icebergs are never seen. The reason for this is that there are few Arctic lands with glaciers large and active enough to produce giant bergs. Most bergs are "born" along the western coast of Greenland and are found in near-by waters.

American Men Too Romantic

Helen Eustis, novelist and magazine writer, who disputes the notion that American husbands are unromantic. In fact, she claims they're too romantic. Writing in the December issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, Miss Eustis explains that husbands overwork themselves to free their wives from household drudgery. The result, she says, is that the wives become underworked and overfed and the husbands begin to appear unromantic alongside their wives' soap opera idols. As a solution, the author recommends that husbands and wives become better friends by sharing and enjoying mutual work and recreation.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The most serious mistake of the Springfield school authorities in developing the recent $5,940,000 bond issue program for submission to the people was their failure first to critically analyze the "Study of Public School Building Needs in Springfield," made for them by The Bureau of Education Research of Ohio State University. Had the Springfield authorities made a critical analysis of this Study, they would have found the same glaring weakness in the Study that was quickly apparent to the Director of Education Research of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

The predictions of school building needs contained in the Ohio State University Study were based upon birth statistics for the City of Springfield as a whole, enrollments for the Springfield school system as a whole, with a projection of estimated future enrollments from a combination of these figures. The only attempt in the Ohio State University Study to go beyond the city-wide birth and enrollment figures was by examination of new building permits and by talking to subdividers.

Obviously, in developing a school building expansion program, it is imperative to know in what areas the children will be living when they reach school age. The ideal way to obtain this information would have been to make a house-to-house census, with the cooperation of the Parent-Teachers Association, to determine exactly how many children of pre-school age there are in Springfield, exactly where those children live, whether they will attend the public schools, and whether the parents of those children have any definite plans for moving. Such a pre-school census was recently made by the Civic League of DuPage County with the cooperation of the Parent-Teachers Association in Wheaton as the basis for a study of school building needs there. Such a study is now in process, under the direction of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, by the Morgan County Taxpayers' Association and Jacksonville PTA for the Jacksonville Board of Education. In the time available before the election of November 15 it was impossible for the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois to undertake such a census in Springfield for the Sangamon County Public Expenditure Council.

As the next best method, the residence of every child born in Springfield in each of the calendar years 1942 through 1948, and for the period from January 1 through September 30, 1949, was spotted on maps. The boundaries of Springfield schools were then drawn on these maps. This gave an accurate record of births by years in each school area throughout the city.

Children born in 1942 should have entered kindergarten in the school year 1947-48, first grade in 1948-49 and second grade in 1949-50. Children born in 1943 should have entered kindergarten in the school year 1948-49, and the first grade in 1949-50. Children born in 1944 should have entered kindergarten in the school year 1949-50. The next step therefore was the preparation of an enrollment table by grades for each Springfield school for the school years 1926-27 to 1949-50 inclusive.

By comparing enrollments in each school, year to year and grade to grade, and by comparing births in the school area with subsequent enrollments in the school, it was possible to get a pretty clear idea of what was happening to the pre-school population in each school area—whether the parents of children of pre-school age in each school area were staying in or moving out of that area, and whether or not the area presented a problem of future overcrowding of the school building.

How the results of this analysis by individual school areas compared with the predictions of the Ohio State University Study based on city-wide figures will be discussed in next week's column, and will clearly indicate the danger of using city-wide figures in formulating a school building program.

Bits o' business

This year's world peanut crop probably will crack all previous records for goober output. Production may sprout above 11 million tons, 20 per cent more than prewar levels . . . Horse-and-mule population continues to dwindle. Since 1930 the total number has dropped from 19 to about eight million. The reason: tractors are rapidly pushing them into the obsolete column . . . With one outstanding exception, 1949 Christmas shoppers are going in for more practical gifts: rugs, washers, furniture, etc. The exception: television sets. They're selling like the proverbial hotcake.

Soft Coal Wages

Wages in the soft coal industry are from 65 to 70 per cent of total costs.

Almost 30,000 farmers keep records with UI

Close to 30,000 Illinois farmers will be keeping records in cooperation with the Illinois College of Agriculture in 1950.

There are three record-keeping projects in the agricultural extension service. In the Farm Bureau Farm Management Service there will be about 2,800 cooperators next year. Another 650 men will keep their accounts in the Extension project. And an estimated 25,000 farmers and GI on-the-farm trainees will use the new, simplified Illinois Farm Record Book.

Concerning farm records, Dean H. P. Rusk says: "Farming is a business and demands business methods. A farmer who keeps financial records year after year will know how profitable or unprofitable his business has been. When intelligently interpreted, these records show where changes need to be made, and thus furnish a sound basis for future plans."
